DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to the thirteen members of the family who lost their lives in World War II.

They are: Otis Andrew Carmichael (Carmichael Line) who lost his life at the hands of the Japanese in the Philippine Islands in 1944; Robert B. Collier (Beck Line) who was killed in France with the Seventh Army in 1945; Philip Arthur Wilheit (White Line) who died on New Britain Island with the First Marine Division in 1943; Dabney Wylton Sharp (Brown Line) who lost his life as a pilot over the North Sea returning to his base in England from a mission over Germany in 1945; Harold Coppedge Evans (Andrews Line), Seaman First Class, lost his life on a British Oil Tanker out from Trinidad about 500 miles off the coast of South America in 1942; Grover Connell Patrick, Jr., (Andrews Line) was killed in action in Africa as an engineer in 1945; Willie Joe Tingle (Andrews Line) was killed in France with the Seventh Armored Division in 1944; Lewis White Evans (White Line) was reported missing over the Pacific Ocean while serving in the United States Marine Corp in 1944; James Cook Huggins (Harkness Line) was killed in action in France in 1944; Hugh Abner Yarbrough (White Line) was killed at Charleston, South Carolina, while on flight as an Air Force Pilot in 1944.

Preston Baxter Brown (Brown Line) was killed in a railway accident at Schenectady, New York, while serving with the 258th Field Artillery in 1942; Chester Bryan Harris, Jr., (Harkness Line) was killed in a jeep accident near Gainesville, Georgia, while on duty with the United States Navy in 1943; and Robert William Stewart (Andrews Line) died in an army hospital at Lowry Field, Denver, Colorado, while serving his country in 1947.

In dedicating this family history to the memory of these thirteen who gave their lives for their country, we honor ourselves in honoring them. They did not die in vain but made a lasting contribution and left an immortal heritage to their descendents, and thus they will live forever in grateful memory.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

William Henry Beck, III, was born in Griffin, Georgia, on December 7, 1925, the only son of William H. Beck, Jr., and Sara Lester Beck. He attended the public schools in Griffin until 1942. At that time he moved to Alexandria, Virginia, with his family where his father was connected with the Judge Advocate General's Department in Washington, D. C. He attended and graduated from George Washington High School, Alexandria, Virginia, in 1943. His father being ordered overseas in 1943, the family returned to make their home in Griffin and Bill enrolled in Griffin High School for post high school work. He graduated from Griffin High in 1944.

Young Beck attended the University of Georgia in the College of Liberal Arts from 1944 to 1946. He next attended West Georgia College in Carrollton, where, in 1947, he received his Terminal Diploma. Finally in 1950, he received a diploma in higher accounting from the Georgia-Alabama School of Commerce in Macon, Georgia.

His employment record has been varied - for a time he was employed by the J. C. Penney Company in Griffin where he was a salesman, head of the Boys Wear Department, and later a stock room clerk. While attending business school in Macon he was employed by the Dannenburg Company as salesman. For a short time, he was connected with the State Bank in Griffin.

On March 13, 1951, he became connected with the Thomaston Mills, Griffin Division, Griffin, Georgia, in the Supply Parts Department and later he was transferred to the Weave Department, keeping production records, where he is now employed.

When a mere lad, young Bill, edited, mimeographed, and delivered a "Beck News", a news sheet, which he distributed throughout the city of Griffin. He was sports editor of the Spalding County Times from March, 1951 to November, 1952. He is an ardent football, baseball, and basketball fan, and a qualified baseball scorer.

While at the University, Bill was initiated into the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, as had been his father before him. Bill was treasurer of his Fraternity for two terms while at the University.

Bill was the founder and first president of the Phi Delta Theta Alumni Club of Griffin, later becoming a secretary of the Club. He is a former member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Griffin and a member of the First Methodist Church.

FOREWORD

The author of this genealogy has devoted eleven and one-half years of intensive research in the preparation of this work. It has been a labor of love, in which the author has not spared himself. The various ramifications entering into this family history have extended into thirty two states and two foreign countries, and embraces more than one language from AD 571 to the present.

Voluminous correspondence with hundreds of persons, much of which was fruitless; visits to various cemeteries; to court records - deeds, wills, and other documents; family Bibles and records; all went into the making of this record.

Eight wars have furnished records in which one or more members of the clan participated - Revolution, War of 1812, War Between The States, Mexican, Spanish-American, World War I, World War II, and the Korean incident - and from Alfred the Great to the present.

William H. Beck, III, has done a splendid job and deserves the appreciation of the many persons concerned with their forbears in preserving for posterity the records that otherwise would be forever lost.

PREFACE

The object of this TEXT is to acquaint the present, the older, and the new generations with this great family of ours.

This TEXT, A FAMILY GENEALOGY, is as authentic as possible for the author to make it. It is composed of fourteen family lines, nine of which are considered as major lines. The nine major lines are: Harkness, Carmichael, Lester, Greene, Andrews, Brown, White, Polhill, and Beck.

This family history is divided into three family groups. Group one is composed of the Reid, Baskin, Harkness, Carmichael, and Lester families. Group two is composed of the Andrews, Harkness, Carmichael, and Beck families. Group three is composed of the Bruce-Cox, Greene, Brown, White, Beck, and Daniel families.

The appendix is composed of the Polhill family line.

The author extends his appreciation to those who made this book possible.

ZACHARY FAULKNER HARKNESS (1841-1917) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, December 14, 1917 - Coming as a shock to the family and a wide circle of friends, was the death of Mr. Z. F. Harkness which occurred Tuesday morning (Dec. 11). Death was sudden and was due to appoplexy, it was said.

Mr. Harkness was one of Butts County's leading citizens. He was held in universal high esteem for his honesty, integrity, and sterling character. Mr. Harkness was 76 years old and served in the War Between The States as a member of Co. A, 30th Georgia Regiment. He was a member of the Jackson Presbyterian Church.

The funeral services were held at the home Thursday morning, Rev.

James Bradley officiating. Interment was in Fellowship cemetery.

SALLIE CAMP HARKNESS (1850-1928) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, August 10, 1928 - Following a stroke of paralysis suffered a few days ago, Mrs. Sallie Harkness, widow of the late Mr. Z. F. Harkness, passed away at her home a few miles from Jackson Saturday afternoon (August 4).

Born August 3, 1850, Mrs. Harkness was 78 years and one day old. She was born and reared in Butts County, the daughter of Mr. Nathan Camp, a well known Confederate soldier who lost his life at the battle of Murfreesboro, Tenn. Her husband, the late Mr. Z. F. Harkness, was a well known citizen and prominent Confederate veteran. She was a devoted member of the Fellowship Presbyterian Church.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at Fellowship Church, with Rev. Julian Warner officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

LEIGHTON M. HARKNESS (1868-1939) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, August 3, 1939 - Funeral services for Mr. Leighton M. Harkness, 71 years of age, former Butts County citizen whose death occurred Tuesday night (Aug. 1) in Miami, Fla., will be held at Fellowship Church Friday afternoon. Rev. E. L. Daniel will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

Mr. Harkness, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Z. F. Harkness, was born and reared in Butts County and lived here until 20 years ago when he moved to Miami. He was connected with prominent families of the county and was a member of the Methodist Church.

SAMUEL JEFFERSON FOSTER (1873-1935) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, March 8, 1935 - Coming as a profound shock to the family and hosts of friends was the death of Judge S. J. Foster, clerk of Butts Superior Court since 1911, which came suddenly and unexpectedly in the Crawford W. Long Hospital in Atlanta Monday morning (March 4).

Samuel Jefferson Foster was born Feb. 20, 1873 a son of William J. and Susannah McKibben Foster, among the early settlers of Towaliga District. His father came from Ireland and settled in the county soon after it was created in 1825. His family has played an important part in the upbuilding of the county.

He attended the North Georgia Agricultural College at Dahlonega, his class including several prominent Georgians. Judge Foster was a member of the Fellowship Presbyterian Church and he supported all religious activities liberally. He possessed a likeable personality and was a true and tested friend. His advice and counsel was early sought and he was admired for his conservative stand on all questions.

Judge Foster was equally well known as a civic leader. He was president of the Butts County Fair Association and head of the Butts County Centennial Committee in 1925 when Butts County celebrated its one hundredth anniversary.

In the realm of education Judge Foster took a leading and progressive part. He was formerly a member of the Butts County Board of Education, and served for several years as a member of the Jackson Board of Education. Education always found in Judge Foster a stalwart champion and a devoted friend.

On Nov. 10, 1911 Judge Foster was elected clerk of Butts Superior Court, winning the office in a field of three candidates, to succeed Judge B. P. Bailey whose death occurred on Oct. 10, 1911. Filling the unexpired term so capably, Judge Foster had been continued in office for twenty-four years.

Funeral services were held at the Jackson Presbyterian Church Wednesday morning. Rev. E. L. Daniel conducted the impressive services in the presence of a large assemblance. Interment was in the family lot in Fellowship cemetery.

SARA CORRINE FOSTER (1906-1956) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, August 23, 1956 - Funeral services for Miss Sara Corrine Foster, 50, were held Wednesday afternoon in the Jackson Presbyterian Church with Rev. Kirk Nesbit, Rev. G. A. Briggs, and Rev. Lamar Watkins officiating. Interment was in Fellowship cemetery under the direction of Haisten Funeral Home.

Miss Foster died early Tuesday morning (Aug. 21) at an Atlanta hospital after a brief illness.

One of the county's best known and popular officials, she was elected Clerk of the Butts Superior Court on May 15, 1935 to fill the unexpired term of her father, the late Judge S. J. Foster, and in 1936 was reelected to fill a full four-year term.

Her conduct of the affairs of that important office were marked by a high degree of devotion to duty and capable and obliging service. Grand juries frequently commended her for the neatness and accuracy of the records kept by her office.

She was a member of the Fellowship Presbyterian Church and was active in the support of its causes.

THELMA LEVERRETT DICK (1921-1956) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, May 24, 1956 - Funeral services for Mrs. Herbert Dick, who died Monday morning (May 21) of a heart attack at her home in Spartanburg, S. C., were held Wednesday morning at the Jackson Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Wade H. Bell, Jr., pastor, and the Rev. Kirk Nesbit officiating. Interment was in the family lot in the Fellowship cemetery. Haisten Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Dick, the former Miss Thelma Leverrett, was born in Jackson on January 25, 1921 and was a graduate of the Jackson High class of 1938. She was a member of the Jackson Presbyterian Church. She had lived in Spartanburg for approximately 10 months.

GEORGE CAMP HARKNESS (1879-1944) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, March 30, 1944 - George Camp Harkness, 64 years of age, well known resident of Butts County, died in a Griffin hospital Saturday night (March 25) after a serious illness of several weeks.

He was the son of the late Zack Harkness and Mrs. Mary Thaxton Harkness, prominent residents of Butts County. Mr. Harkness was a successful planter and actively identified with all progressive movements. He was an elder of the Fellowship Presbyterian Church and took a leading part in religious affairs.

Funeral services were held at Fellowship Church Monday morning. Services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Styles, pastor, assisted by Rev. Richard Scoggins, a former pastor. Burial was in the Church Cemetery with Thornton Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

JOHN SINGLETON ROBISON (1906-1951) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, March 8, 1951 - Impressive and largely attended funeral services for John Singleton Robison, 44, were held at the Jackson Methodist Church Sunday. Rev. Walter Styles, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Valdese, N. C., and former Jackson and Fellowship pastor, Rev. Ralph Shea of the Jackson Methodist Church, were the officiating ministers, assisted by Rev. Richard Scoggins, a former pastor at Fellowship and Jackson and now pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Panama City, Fla. Burial was in Jackson cemetery with Haisten Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Robison was killed late Friday (March 2) in a hunting accident.

Born May 12, 1906 in Jackson where he spent his entire life, Mr. Robison was a son of Mrs. Florrie Hammond Robison and the late Mr. E. C. Robison, connected with leading Georgia families. After completing his education at Jackson High School, he engaged in a business career and for many years had been manager of the farm department of Robison, Settle and Robison, Inc.

An enthusiastic sportsman, Mr. Robison spent much of his leisure time in hunting. He was a member of the Jackson Methodist Church, St. Johns Lodge of Masons, Alexius Commandery of Knights Templar, and of the Shrine.

THOMAS BAKER FLETCHER (1870-1929) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, September 13, 1929 - Funeral services for Mr. Thomas Baker Fletcher, aged 59, one of Butts County's most prominent citizens, who died at his home near Jackson Thursday night, Sept. 5, were held Sunday morning at England's Chapel. The services were conducted by Rev. E. C. Wilson, pastor of the Forsyth Methodist Church and a former member pastor at England's Chapel and Jenkinsburg, assisted by Rev. V. O. Gentry, pastor of the Jenkinsburg Methodist Church, and Dr. L. M. Twiggs, presiding elder of the Griffin District. Interment was in the Jackson City Cemetery. Death was attributed to heart trouble.

Mr. Fletcher was a loyal member of the Jenkinsburg Masonic Lodge. He enjoyed the distinction of being one of middle Georgia's best farmers and a year or two ago was nominated for the honor of a Master Farmer in the contest conducted by the Progressive Farmer. Into his farm he had put his best thought and effort and his success with cover and soil improvement crops made his farm a popular place to study improved methods. He was generally conceded to be Butts County's best all round farmer.

Born in Butts County September 14, 1870, Mr. Fletcher was in his fifty-ninth year. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Fletcher, pioneer residents of the county and connected with leading middle Georgia families. He was married in 1894 to Miss Annie Crawford and September 6 marked the thirty-fifth anniversary of their marriage.

CHESTER BRYAN HARRIS, JR. (1920-1943) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia - Bryan Harris, 22 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Harris of Jenkinsburg and serving with the United States Navy recruiting station at Gainesville, was killed instantly about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon (Feb. 23, 1943) when the jeep in which he was riding turned over on the highway near Gainesville. The accident occurred when something went wrong with the steering gear, causing the jeep to turn turtle. Two other service men in the jeep were seriously injured.

The eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Harris, he was graduated in 1939 from the Jackson High School where he was a popular member of the basketball team. He enlisted in the Navy several months ago and was a valued member of Uncle Sam's sea forces. He was a member of the Methodist Church and had scores of friends who are saddened by the tragedy.

Funeral services were held at the Jenkinsburg Methodist Church Thursday morning with Rev. E. W. McDougal officiating. There was an escort from the U. S. Navy and the casket was draped with the United States flag.

Burial was in the family lot in the Jenkinsburg cemetery.

ALAN BAKER FLETCHER (1936-1951) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia - A fall from a truck in which a group of teen-age boys had attended a baseball game Saturday afternoon (Aug. 11, 1951) proved fatal to Alan Baker Fletcher, 14-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fletcher.

The accident occurred near the home of the lad's parents. When the cut-down truck ran over a rock it threw Alan out of the vehicle and his head hit a rock in the road. After the injury, the youth was given emergency treatment by a Jackson doctor and then was rushed to the Griffin-Spalding County Hospital where he was pronounced dead soon after arrival.

He was born September 3, 1936 and would have attained his 15th birthday next month. A student in the Jackson High School he would have been a member of the tenth grade this fall.

Funeral services were held at England's Chapel Church Tuesday with Rev. W. C. Bowen of Augusta and Rev. J. R. Thompson officiating. Burial was in the family lot in the Jackson cemetery with Haisten Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

WILLIAM MASTON HARKNESS (1850-1934) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, January 12, 1934 - Mr. William Maston Harkness, 83 years of age, one of the county's most prominent citizens, died at his home here Sunday morning (Jan. 7). Death resulted after an illness of several weeks. He suffered from heart trouble.

Born in Butts County Dec. 22, 1850, Mr. Harkness was connected with influential families of this section. He was a son of the late Mr. W. B. Harkness, and his mother was a Miss Faulkner, of Jasper County. He was a nephew of the late Judge James W. Harkness, leading Butts County resident. He was a member of the Jackson Methodist Church. His life was marked by upright business dealings and loyalty to his friends.

Funeral services were held at the Jackson Methodist Church Monday morning, with the pastor, Rev. R. P. Etheridge, officiating. Interment was in the Jackson City Cemetery.

NANCY EMMA POPE HARKNESS (1862-1953) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, November 26, 1953 - Mrs. Emma Pope Harkness, 91, widow of the late Mr. W. M. Harkness of Jackson, died November 19 in Atlanta. She had long been in feeble health.

Born in Jasper County of a prominent middle Georgia family, Mrs. Harkness after her marriage resided here for several years before going to Atlanta for permanent residence. She was the last member of her family, her brother, the late Mr. S. M. Pope, having died some years ago. She was a member of the Methodist Church. The Harkness family has long been influential in affairs of Butts County.

Committment services were held at the Jackson cemetery Saturday with Dr. Nat G. Long officiating. Burial was in the family lot under the direction of H. M. Patterson & Son.

EMILY HARKNESS COLLINS (1884-1954) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, October 14, 1954 - Mrs. Emmie Harkness Collins, wife of W. H. Collins, died in Jacksonville, Fla., on September 30 as the result of an illness of several weeks. Funeral services were held in Jacksonville October 2.

Born in Butts County, Mrs. Collins was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harkness. The family has resided in Jacksonville several years. Many relatives live in this section.

IRIS AUBREY ROBERTS (1899-1949) - ATLANTA JOURNAL, Atlanta, Georgia - Funeral services for I. A. (Bob) Roberts, 50, vice-president and general manager of the Gulf-Atlantic Warehouse Co. in Atlanta and Memphis, were held Friday at Spring Hill. Dr. Nat G. Long officiated. The body was sent to Jackson for burial. Mr. Roberts died Wednesday night (Oct. 19, 1949) at his home, 2691 Boulevard dr., S. E.

For the past 17 years Mr. Roberts had been associated with the Gulf-Atlantic Co. here, in Memphis and Greenville, S. C. He formerly was with the Southern Railway system in Atlanta and Charlotte, N. C., for about 18 years.

Mr. Roberts was well known throughout the cotton industry. He was a member of the National Cotton Council and the National Cotton Compress and Warehouse Association.

A Georgian most of his life, he was a native of Woolsey and had lived in Atlanta many years before moving to Memphis about two years ago. He had been in Atlanta since his illness began about eight weeks ago.

Mr. Roberts was a member of the Peachtree Road Methodist Church in Atlanta and the Tennessee Club in Memphis.

MARY JANE NUTT MOORE (1828-1901) - THE JACKSON RECORD, Jackson, Georgia, October 25, 1901 - Mrs. Moore, widow of the late Col. John L. Moore, and mother of Mrs. J. M. Crawford, died at the home of Mr. Charlie Nutt, near Eastman, last Tuesday (Oct. 22), and her remains were brought to this place and interred in the Jackson cemetery Thursday morning after funeral ceremonies at the Baptist Church conducted by Dr. Nelson.

Mrs. Moore left Sheriff Crawford's home a few days ago enjoying her usual good health to visit relatives in South Georgia and was stopping for a short while with Mr. Nutt and while writing a letter to Mrs. Crawford she was stricken with apoplexy and after living two hours in an unconscious state passed on into the great beyond.

Mrs. Moore was the daughter of the late William Nutt, Sr., and was raised after early childhood at the place where Capt. W. F. Smith now resides. She was 74 years of age and leaves one daughter and four sons besides numerous other relatives and friends to mourn her departure. She had long been a devoted member of the Baptist Church and was always regarded as one of the best of women. The Record extends sympathy.

HENRY McINTOSH MOORE (1887-1953) - Taken from newspaper clipping, Thomasville, Georgia, December 30, 1953 - After a lengthy illness Dr. Henry McIntosh Moore died last night (Dec. 29) at his home on Remington Avenue, as a direct result of a heart attack, superinduced by his previous illness.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of Whiddon's Funeral Home and will be held tomorrow afternoon from the home. Rev. William McKay will officiate.

Dr. Moore was born in Thomasville May 11, 1887, son of James Willis and Octavia Stone Moore. He was married in New York City to Miss Marguerite Vining on July 14, 1917, while he was in the service in World War I. He came to Thomasville after his service for his country and after spending a short time in Boston.

He has been in active practice of medicine as a specialist in eye, ears, nose, and throat in Thomasville for thirty-four years and was well known throughout this section. He attended the University of Georgia and the Atlanta College of Physicians and Surgeons.

For many years Dr. Moore took an active interest in business and professional life in this community. His active war service was followed by leadership in the T. L. Spence, Jr., Post of the American Legion of which he was at one time commander. He was a prominent member of the Thomas County Medical Society, a director of the Commercial Bank and the Thomasville Ice Co. His church affiliation was Presbyterian. He was a member of the Housing Authority of Thomasville and also the local Lodge of Elks.

MARY LUCILE NUTT TURNER (1879-1956) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, January 19, 1956 - Funeral services for Mrs. Mary N. Turner, 76, who died Tuesday (Jan. 17) in a Macon Hospital, will be held Thursday in the First Baptist Church with Rev. G. A. Briggs officiating. Death came to Mrs. Turner following a severe stroke about 10 days ago that left her paralyzed and in a semi-conscious condition.

Born in Jackson, she was the daughter of the late William P. Nutt and Mrs. Annie Lee Ham Nutt. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Interment was in the Jackson cemetery under the direction of Peacock and Ball Funeral Home.

WILLIAM MAURICE MALLET (1845-1900) - JACKSON ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, December 21, 1900 - Jackson was hushed into silence and sadness last Saturday morning (Dec. 15) when it was announced that William M. Mallet was dead. Mr. Mallet had been sick for only a few days, having been attacked with a congestive chill a few days before, and he was dead before many of our people knew he was sick, and the announcement came in the nature of a surprise and shock to all.

The deceased was born in Fredericksburg, Virginia, about 56 years ago. He came to Georgia when quite a lad, running a candy and fruit stand at Indian Springs. He developed an aptness for business that was remarkable. Later in life he was associated in business with "Uncle" Harold Byars. In late years he has been an extensive dealer in and manufacturer of commercial fertilizers. He has also been recognized as the largest farmer in the county, and was at the time of his death managing the interests of the Jackson Oil Mill Co. In the conduct of his private business Mr. Mallet was wise in the selection of his heads of departments.

He was chairman of the county board of education for years and was a splendid man for the place. He has also served the city with faithfulness and distinction for years as a member of the board of trustees of Jackson Institute, and at the time of his death was chairman of the board of county commissioners, and a better officer never lived.

He was a member of the Methodist Church and had been a faithful and efficient steward in that church.

The pastor of the church, Rev. R. B. O. England, conducted in the funeral exercises. The other pastors of the city also joined in the exercises which occurred at the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon in the presence of a tremendous concourse of people from all walks of life. At the grave the rites of the Masonic lodge were conducted, and all that was mortal of a most useful citizen was laid to rest.

William Maurice Mallet served in the War Between The States with Company G, 3rd Georgia Reserves from May of 1864 until April of 1865. He was wounded in South Carolina in December of 1864.

RICHARD LAMAR NUTT (1916-) - ATLANTA JOURNAL, Atlanta, Georgia, November 15, 1954. Taken in part from Editorial by Margaret Shannon. - Richard Lamar Nutt, the youngest of three children of James C. and Evelyn Reid Nutt, was born on April 14, 1916 in Griffin, Georgia. Richard Lamar Nutt attended the Griffin schools and after graduation from High School worked in a cotton mill and a wholesale grocery. He accepted his lot and went on earning a living. He was not full of resentments or frustrations.

Nutt was a Marine for four years in World War II. Afterward, he had the opportunity to go to college under the GI bill, and if he could get a college education, becoming a doctor didn't seem so far away.

He took his pre-med work at the Atlanta Division of the University of Georgia and graduated from the Medical College of Georgia in Augusta on June 4, 1955. He is now (1955) serving his internship at the Spartanburg General Hospital, Spartanburg, South Carolina.

Dr. Nutt married Ruth Loughridge, born on April 22, 1917, on July 6, 1941. They have five children.

THOMAS ADD NUTT, JR. (1921-) - Thomas Add Nutt, Jr., was born October 17, 1921 in Atlanta, Georgia, to Thomas Add and Lucille Elder Nutt. He entered the United States Naval Air Corp in January of 1942 in Savannah, Georgia, and received his wings at Pensacola, Florida, on September 19, 1944. He saw overseas duty in the Pacific at Hawaii and in the Philippine Islands. He was stationed at the Pentagon, Washington, D. C., for three years. From 1954 until 1956, he was stationed at San Diego, California. He now (1956) has a rank of a Lieutenant Commander stationed at the Pentagon, Washington, D. C., in the Bureau of Navy Personnel.

He married Sarah Bennett Smith on September 21, 1944. Three children were born to this union.

CLARENCE DOUGLAS NUTT (1903-1952) - ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Georgia, April 28, 1952 - GRIFFIN, April 28 - Funeral services for Clarence Nutt were held Saturday afternoon in the Union Cemetery with the Rev. Robert Harrison officiating. Mr. Nutt, formerly of Spalding County, died in San Francisco, Calif., last Friday (April 18). He was born in Spalding County, but had lived in San Francisco for the past 17 years.

JAMES WASHINGTON HARKNESS, JR. (1812-1902) - JACKSON ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, November 7, 1902 - In the death of Judge James W. Harkness, who departed this life October 20th, 1902, in his ninetieth year, Jackson and Butts County are truly called upon to mourn the loss of one of the oldest landmarks, one of the sturdiest oaks that ever grew on Middle Georgia soil.

James W. Harkness was born in Morgan County, Ga., December 22nd, 1812. He came from sturdy Virginia and Carolina stock - his father, James Harkness, having been born in South Carolina July 9th, 1780, and his mother, who was Miss Rosanna Baskin before marriage, was born in Virginia March 17, 1776. Soon after marriage, in 1801, Judge Harkness' parents located in Morgan County, and in 1822 they came to Butts County to live, Judge Harkness then being ten years old. They settled on what is now known as the Thurston place out beyond Capt. L. D. Watson's and there Judge Harkness reached the years of manhood. There his father died July 9, 1851, and there his mother died August 9, 1840. It was his pride to boast that he was educated in an old field school - a log house, with dirt floor and puncheons for seats.

April 30th, 1835, James W. Harkness was married to Miss Martha E. Boyd, and the union was blessed with two children, Mrs. Mary Ann McKibben and Mrs. Rose E. Carmichael, both now living in Jackson. She died April 26, 1848. Judge Harkness was married three times, his second wife being Mrs. Jane Spencer, married in June 1848. His third wife was Miss Jane Lemon, married September 9, 1885. She survives him. No children were born to either of his last two wives.

During his whole life, which was spent in Butts County, Judge Harkness was an important factor in the development and the upbuilding of the town and county, and he held many important positions of honor and trust. He represented the county in the state legislature two terms in the early forties, when the Capital was at Milledgeville, and he served as sheriff of Butts County for many years.

He was a Mason for three-quarters of a century and was buried with Masonic honors. He had been a prominent member of the Baptist Church for over half a century.

MARTHA BOYD HARKNESS (1821-1848) - FEDERAL UNION, Milledgeville, Georgia, May 9, 1848 - Died near Jackson, in Butts County, Ga., April 20, after a short but severe illness, Mrs. Martha Harkness, wife of James W. Harkness and daughter of Richard and Lucy Boyd, aged 27 years.

JANE LEMON HARKNESS (1838-1903) - JACKSON ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia - After only a few days sickness with grip, Mrs. Jane Harkness died Wednesday morning (May 13, 1903) at the home of her nephew, Mr. Abel Lemon.

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. A. Harper, of Unionville, Thursday morning, after which the remains were interred at Macedonia. She was a consistent member of Pleasant Grove Church at Iron Spring.

MARY ANN HARKNESS McKIBBEN (1837-1914) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, September 25, 1914 -After an illness of several weeks, Mrs. Mary Ann McKibben passed away at her home of her son, Mr. J. H. McKibben, Sunday afternoon (Sept. 20). Mrs. McKibben was one of the county's best known and highly respected women. The widow of the late Sam McKibben, she belonged to one of the oldest families in the county. Before her marriage she was a Miss Harkness, the daughter of James Harkness, one of the most prominent men of his generation in Butts County. At the time of her death Mrs. McKibben was 77 years of age. She had been a member of the Baptist Church.

The funeral took place Monday morning from the residence of Mr. J. H. McKibben on West Third Street. Dr. Robert Van Deventer conducted the services. Interment was in the City Cemetery.

CHARLES H. THORNTON (1846-1924) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, December 5, 1924 - Following a period of ill health extending over several months and a critical illness of only a few days, Mr. Charles H. Thornton, aged 78, one of Butts County's best known citizens, passed away at the home of his son, Mr. S. H. Thornton on Covington Street, early Saturday morning (Nov. 29). The family is one of the oldest and most prominent in the county and has long been identified with the progress and development of this section. Mr. Thornton was a well known planter until a few years ago when he moved to Jackson to engage in business. He was a member of the Baptist Church and was a Confederate veteran and a member of Camp Barnett, U. C. V. He was twice married, his first wife having been a Miss Watkins and his second wife a Miss McKibben.

Funeral services were held from the home Sunday afternoon and were in charge of Rev. J. S. Hartsfield of the First Baptist Church. Interment was in the Jackson City Cemetery.

SAMUEL HARKNESS THORNTON (1877-1954) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, January 14, 1954 - Samuel Harkness Thornton, 76, who had an outstanding business record of 50 years in Jackson, died Saturday night (Jan. 10) in a Macon hospital where he had been taken for treatment.

First entering business here in 1904 as a grocer, after training in the commercial field in Macon, he later transferred to the furniture business. Adding a funeral home, he conducted the joint business until a few years ago when he disposed of the funeral home and continued to operate the furniture business until the past fall.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church where he served as a deacon. He was a charter member of the Jackson Kiwanis Club and served as president. He was a director of the Jackson Ice Corporation and was a 50-year member of St. Johns Lodge of Masons.

Born in Butts County December 24, 1877, he was a son of Mrs. Mattie McKibben Thornton and Charles H. Thornton. In early life he married Miss Katherine Glawson of Gray and the couple observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary October 27, 1953, when their children honored them with a luncheon at the Macon Elks Club.

Funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church Monday with the Rev. Gaither Briggs officiating. Rev. H. H. Dillard, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Rockmart, assisted in the service.

JAMES H. McKIBBEN (1855-1932) - ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Georgia, September 25, 1932 - JACKSON, Ga., Sept. 25 - The death of Mr. James Harkness McKibben, 77, one of the county's best known citizens, occurred at his home here Saturday morning (Sept. 24). He had been ill several months. He was one of the leading farmers of Butts County.

Mr. McKibben was born Dec. 6, 1855, the son of the late Mr. Samuel McKibben and his wife, Mrs. Mary Ann Harkness McKibben. He served for many years as an alderman of the city of Jackson and was formerly engaged in the wholesale buggy business as an officer in the Empire Buggy Company, large manufacturers in the pre-automobile era.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church of which he was a member, Sunday afternoon, with Rev. T. M. Callaway, the pastor, and Rev. W. S. Adams, of Madison, a former pastor, in charge.

MARIE THORNTON McKIBBEN (1887-1949) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, November 3, 1949 - Jackson friends regretted to learn of the death of Mrs. Marie Thornton McKibben Saturday night, October 30. Mrs. McKibben, 62, had been in ill health for a number of years. She was a charter member of the William McIntosh Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution; the Larkin D. Watson Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy; and held membership in the First Baptist Church of Jackson. She was the oldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thornton, well known residents of Jackson for a long number of years.

Funeral services were held at the Carmichael Funeral Home in McDonough Monday afternoon with Rev. Gaither A. Briggs, pastor of the Jackson Baptist Church, in charge. Burial was in the family lot in the Jackson cemetery.

ZACHARY TAYLOR BUTTRILL (1847-1928) - Taken from a newspaper clipping, Jackson, Georgia - In the death of Mr. Z. T. Buttrill, aged 80, which occurred Sunday night (April 1, 1928) at a private sanitarium in Atlanta, Butts County lost one of its oldest and most prominent citizens. He was born at Sylvan Grove, the ancestral Buttrill homestead, on July 11, 1847, and would have been 81 years old next July. He was a son of Asa Buttrill and Lucile Manley Buttrill, pioneer residents of this section. The family has been prominent in the business and social life of the county since its creation.

At the age of 15 he enlisted in April, 1863, in the Confederate Army under Capt. Charles Stark at Griffin, and served the duration of the war in Company A, Fifth Georgia Battalion, Third Georgia Cavalry, in Blount's battalion of Cobb's legion. He was an active member of Camp Barnett U.C.V. of Jackson, and held the office of first lieutenant. He was also a lieutenant colonel and inspector general on the staff of General D. B. Morgan, commander of the Georgia division U.C.V. His request that he be buried in his Confederate uniform was carried out. He was a member of the Jackson Baptist Church and also held membership in the Knights of Pythias.

Mr. Buttrill was twice married. His first wife was Miss Sarah Jane Harkness, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harkness, members of a prominent Butts County family. His second wife was Miss Emma Pittman.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church Tuesday morning with the Rev. W. S. Adams conducting the services, assisted by Rev. Augustus Ernest, of the Methodist Church. The body was laid to rest in the family lot in the Jackson City Cemetery.

HARRIET EMILY BUTTRILL (1872-1952) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, April 10, 1952 - Miss Harriet Emily Buttrill, member of pioneer Butts County families, died in a Macon hospital Tuesday night (April 8) as the result of an operation. Miss Buttrill was born on a Butts County farm September 7, 1872, the daughter of Zachary Taylor Buttrill and Sara Jane Harkness Buttrill. Her grandfather was Thomas Harkness, wealthy Butts County planter. She was a member of the First Baptist Church, a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and was a member of the old Civic League and the Jackson Woman's Club.

Funeral services were to be held Thursday at the First Baptist Church. The pastor, Rev. Gaither Briggs, assisted by Rev. Ralph Shea of the Methodist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in the family lot in the Jackson cemetery and Haisten Funeral Home will have charge of arrangements.

MARY ELLA BUTTRILL SMITH (1873-1920) - Taken from a newspaper clipping, Jackson, Georgia - The death of Mrs. E. L. Smith, one of the most prominent and widely known women of the city occurred Tuesday night (Jan. 5, 1920) at her home here. Mrs. Smith was before her marriage, Miss Mamie Buttrill, second daughter of Mr. Z. T. Buttrill and Mrs. Sallie Harkness Buttrill. She was a member of the Jackson Baptist Church and a member of the Larkin D. Watson Chapter of the U.D.C.

The funeral services were conducted from the residence Wednesday morning, the services being conducted by Rev. S. R. England, of the Methodist Church, assisted by Dr. M. McN. McKay, of the Presbyterian Church. The interment was in the family lot in the Jackson cemetery.

EDWARD LEE SMITH (1870-1946) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia - E. Lee Smith, 75 years of age, for more than fifty years active in the business affairs of Jackson and Butts County, died Wednesday morning (Feb. 20, 1946) at the Macon Hospital. Coming here as a young man in 1890 he assumed a connection with the firm of Smith and Etheridge. It is now known as Etheridge-Smith Company. It is one of the oldest and largest department stores in this part of the state and it is also one of the largest concerns buying cotton in this area. When the Jackson National Bank was organized in 1907 he became a director and several years ago he was elected president. In January of this year he was made chairman of the board. He also was formerly a director in the old Jackson Banking Company. Long a director and active in the management of the Pepperton Cotton Mills, he served as secretary of that large textile plant.

He had been a trustee and steward in the Jackson Methodist Church. When the present church edifice was erected he served as chairman of the finance and building committee. He was a charter member of the Kiwanis Club.

Born August 19, 1870, son of the late Augustus C. Smith and Jane Phinazee Smith of Monroe County, he was the last member of a family of eight sons and three daughters, all of whom assumed places of leadership in the affairs of the state.

Funeral services were to be held at the home Thursday morning with Rev. W. S. Norton, pastor of the Jackson Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in the family lot in the Jackson cemetery and Thornton Funeral Home will have charge of arrangements.

SARA SMITH McEACHERN (1899-1943) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia - Jackson friends of Mrs. J. N. McEachern, Jr., of Atlanta, were distressed to learn of her death which occurred at her home in Atlanta Tuesday night (March 16, 1943). She was the former Miss Sara Smith, daughter of Mr. E. L. Smith, widely known business leader, and the late Mrs. Mamie Buttrill Smith, and was born and reared in Jackson. She attended school at Ward-Belmont, Nashville, Tenn., and about twenty years ago she was married to Newton McEachern, prominent and influential businessman of Atlanta. She was a member of the Methodist Church.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at Patterson Funeral Home, and interment will be in Westview cemetery.

THE CARMICHAEL FAMILY HISTORY

The Carmichael family is of Scotch descent. There are a number of stories among the various family groups now living in Georgia of where the Carmichael ancestors arrived in America. One story has it that approximately 15 Carmichaels came to America from Scotland. Whether all of them were related can not be determined.

Joseph Carmichael (1766-1854), the subject of this Carmichael Line, migrated to Butts County, Georgia, from South Carolina, the exact place is not known, but various members of this line now living in Jackson, Butts County, Georgia, believe it was Abbeville or Abbeville District, South Carolina.

Affort was made to ascertain where Joseph Carmichael's people came from before they settled in South Carolina. The following information will be of interest to the members of this great family.

According to the various members of the Carmichael family now living in Jackson, Georgia, the story goes that three Carmichael brothers came to the eastern shore of Maryland - one settling there or in Virginia, one in the Carolinas, and the third one coming to Georgia.

The following was found in the Carmichael records in Jackson, Georgia:

“William Carmichael; diplomat; born in Maryland; delegate to Continental Congress 1778-1780; secretary of legation with John Jay's Mission to Spain and remained there as Charge d' Affaires after the return of Mr. Jay. Held the position about 15 years. Died Feb. 1795.”

According to Mrs. L. P. Lester (Anne B. Carmichael Lester) of Jackson, Georgia, the above William Carmichael is definitely a member of the Carmichael family group in this text.

According to the biographical sketch of William Carmichael in the DICTIONARY OF AMERICAN BIOGRAPHY (New York, Scribner's, 1929), Vol. 3, pages 497-498:

“his father was also William Carmichael who had came to the eastern shore of Maryland as a Scotch immigrant, and there married a Miss Brooke, niece of the second wife of Richard Bennett, son of a former governor of Virginia . . . William Carmichael was twice married. As a youth he wed a Miss Stirling, daughter of an Episcopal rector in Queen Annes County, Md. He was a widower with no children when he went to Spain, and there married Antonia Reynolds. (He died February 9, 1795). His widow, with one daughter, Alphonsa, came to America to live near Chestertown, Md.”

From the BIOGRAPHICAL DIRECTORY OF THE AMERICAN CONGRESS - 1774-1949, the following sketch can be found:

“CARMICHAEL, William (granduncle of Richard Bennett Carmichael), a Delegate from Maryland; born at “Round Top”, Queen Annes County, Md., near Chestertown, Md.; studied law; was admitted to the bar and practiced in Centerville, Md.; was in London, England, at the beginning of the Revolution; assistant to Silas Deane, secret agent of Congress, at Paris, France, in 1776; went to Berlin, Prussia, in American interests in 1776; named secretary to the American Commissioners in France in 1777, but did not serve, returning to the United States in May 1778; Member of the Continental Congress 1778-1780; went to Spain in September 1779 as secretary of the legation; appointed Charge d'Affaires at Madrid, Spain, April 20, 1782, and served until May 1794, died in Madrid, Spain, February 9, 1795; interment in a lot adjoining the Roman Catholic Cemetery."

The following information was gathered by Miss Elizabeth B. Showacre, a genealogist from Baltimore, Maryland:

William Carmichael, the immigrant, was born in 1692, and died 1769. He was Justice of Queen Annes County from 1737-39, 1756-66, and of Quorum, 1762-66. Ref.: Dielman Records, Maryland Historical Society. His will was filed in Queen Anne's County, 1769. In it he named his son Walter Carmichael, sons William, James, and Richard Bennett Carmichael. Daughters, Elizabeth Brooke Carmichael, Catherine Brown, and Anne Carmichael. Residue to his children, Walter Carmichael, William Carmichael, James Carmichael, Catherine Brown, Elizabeth Thompson, and Anne Carmichael.

Codicil the first to the foregoing will: "Whereas my deceased brother Walter Carmichael late of Edinborough by his last will and testament did devise an Estate, Personal, to my sister Ann Carmichael, during her life, the Reversion or Remainder unto me, as by the will of the said Walter Carmichael, my will and desire is that the said Estate so Devise, be divided in the same manner and form as I have heretofore devised my Personal Estate between my two granddaughters Elizabeth Holt and Rebecca Holt and my six children. Signed 8th Day of December 1768." Ref.: Box 3, folder 51, Queen Anne's County, Hall of Records, Annapolis, Maryland.

In this will, no brothers in Maryland are mentioned (assuming that Walter Carmichael died at Edinborough, Scotland). However, there is a will on file of one John Carmichael, Queen Anne's County, proved 1778, in which he named nephews John, Joseph and Richard Thompson. This indicates that there might have been a connection between him and the first William, as William's daughter, Elizabeth, married a Thompson. This will was dated May 4, 1777.

William Carmichael (1) married Ann Brooke, sister of James, Roger, and Basil Brooke. Ref.: Judg. Liber 42, folio 73, and Liber 42, folios 87-106.

Catherine Carmichael married John Brown, January 13, 1757, daughter of William Carmichael. Lic. Ref.: St. Luke's P. E. Church, Church Hill, Queen Anne's County, Maryland.

Walter, son of William and Elizabeth Carmichael, born May 28, 1737. Ref.: St. Luke's P. E. Church, Church Hill, Queen Anne's County.

William Carmichael does not appear on the Rent Rolls of Queen Anne's County, no doubt because there are none after 1722. He was continuously a vestryman of St. Paul's Parish after 1729.

Much has been written about William Carmichael, the son of the first William. His diplomatic career, by F. B. Streeter, appeared in the Maryland Historical Magazine, 1913, vol. 8, pp. 119-140, but surprisingly little concerning the family as a group, particularly as its members were such outstanding citizens of the Province and State of Maryland.

The will of William Carmichael (2) was filed in Kent County, Maryland, in 1795. He named his wife Antonia Reynor (Reynolds) and a daughter - name not given.

The South Carolina Archives Department, Columbia, South Carolina, records show the following:

CARMICHAEL, JOSEPH - Box 20, Pack 436. Est. Admnr. Nov. 30, 1785 by Eleanor, Joseph Carmichael. Timothy McKinney bound to Jno. Thomas, Jr. Ord. 96 Dist. sum 1,000 lbs. Inv. made Dec. 24, 1785 by Thos. Hamilton, Jno. Beard, Joseph Limaster.

The Department of Archives and History, Atlanta, Georgia, records show the following:

Joseph and John Carmichael as witnesses to a deed in Richmond County, Georgia, in 1785; Joseph as a representative of Greene County to the Constitutional Convention in 1789; Joseph mentioned as a land owner in Greene County in 1795.

The above Joseph Carmichael of Greene County, Georgia, could have been the Joseph Carmichael, ancestor of the Carmichael Line in this text, as he would have been only 29 years old (1795). If he were the ancestor of the Carmichael Line in this text, he was probably migrating westward as the value of the land decreased.

Mrs. A. C. Padgett, a genealogist from Columbia, South Carolina, gathered the following information from records in the South Carolina State Archives:

CARMICHAEL - LAND PLATS

Carmichael, Joseph: 1764.	200 Acres, Grantville County (later became Abbeville) near Fishdom Ford on Great Rocky Creek of Savannah River.
Carmichael, Daniel: 1766.	100 Acres, Grantville County (later became Abbeville) near Fishdom Ford on Great Rocky Creek of Savannah River.
Carmichael, Elizabeth: 1765.	200 Acres on Ross' Creek of Savannah River near Great Rocky Creek, Northwest corner of Abbeville County.
Carmichael, Mary: 1765.	100 Acres on the Savannah River.
Carmichael, William: 1767.	150 Acres on waters of Savannah River, Carmichael's Creek.

There is one William Carmichael (1771-1843) buried in the Fellowship Presbyterian Church cemetery in Butts County, Georgia, along side of Joseph Carmichael (1766-1854). Various members of the Carmichael family now living in Jackson, Georgia, say that this William Carmichael was a brother of Joseph.

There is no will on file at the Ordinary's Office in Jackson, Georgia, for a William Carmichael.

According to Mrs. Padgett's records, there were three Carmichael wills on record from Abbeville or Charleston (all wills were entered or recorded in Charleston before 1794 or thereabouts) that mentions the names of William and Joseph Carmichael, to-wit:

Carmichael, William (planter). Abbeville Will Book 1, page 274. (1800).

Wife: Sarah. No children mentioned. Brother (?) Daniel, no bequest, but a bequest to (nephew?) "William, son of Daniel, dec'd." 1 shilling. Also to (nephews?) Joseph, William, and Robert, sons of Joseph Carmichael, Sr., dec'd. to each 1 shilling "if demanded". Will dated June 8, 1798; proved 27 Dec., 1800. Witnesses: Josiah Patterson, Sr., John Thomson, Margaret Patterson.

Carmichael, William. Abbeville Will Book 2, pages 73-74.

Mention made of wife, Mary, and of Abraham and Arthur Carmichael; and of "Prosperity Meet-House". (Conditional bequests). No children mentioned. Dated 1818, recorded 1820.

Carmichael, William. Charleston Will Book A (1771-74), page 229.

Wife, Mary. Sons: John (eldest), William, Daniel; Daughters: Elizabeth Morrow and Mary Johnston. Grandchildren: Mary Carmichael plus Mary and Joseph (Jennet Brown's children). Executors: sons Joseph and Daniel. Will dated Oct. 19, 1770 and proved Nov. 30, 1771.

Joseph Carmichael, son of Joseph Carmichael, Sr., mentioned in the first will listed above might have been the same Joseph Carmichael (1766-1854), the ancestor of the Carmichael Line in this text. In the same will listed above, William Carmichael names his brothers (?) as Daniel and Joseph Carmichael, Sr., both deceased.

The last will mentioned above of a William Carmichael who died between 1770 and 1771, names his sons as John, William, Daniel, and Joseph Carmichael. The sons of this William Carmichael, William and Daniel, might have been the same brothers listed in the first William Carmichael's will. If this is true, Joseph Carmichael's (1766-1854) grandfather was also William Carmichael, who died either in 1770 or 1771.

However, there is no way of proving the above statements because the courthouse at Abbeville, South Carolina, burned many years ago destroying all the records.

LUCY ESTELLE GIBBS CARMICHAEL (1840-1926) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, August 6, 1926 - In the death of Mrs. Lucy Estelle Carmichael, which occurred Saturday morning (July 31), the community lost one of its oldest and most widely beloved women. Death was due to the infirmities of old age.

Mrs. Carmichael was born July 4, 1840, in Hamilton, Harris County, Georgia, the daughter of Dr. C. C. Gibbs. She attended the LaGrange Female College, of which institution she was a graduate. She became a member of the Hamilton Baptist Church in 1857.

She was the widow of the late Dr. W. L. Carmichael and the family moved to Jackson in 1822. She became a member of the Baptist Church here and had been a devoted member for forty-four years. Together with two other women, she organized the first missionary society in Jackson and was the first president.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon and were conducted by her pastor, Rev. Walter S. Adams, assisted by Rev. Augustus Ernest, of the Methodist Church. Interment was in the family lot in the Jackson City Cemetery.

FRANK MALLORY COPELAND (1892-1952) - Newspaper Clipping, McDonough, Georgia - Funeral services for Frank M. Copeland, prominent McDonough merchant, will be held here tomorrow afternoon at the First Baptist Church. The pastor, Rev. Glen Waldrop, will officiate, assisted by Rev. E. A. Padgett, pastor of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Copeland died at the Griffin-Spalding Hospital Wednesday (May 7, 1952) following a brief illness. He was a member of the McDonough Baptist Church. He had operated a mercantile business in McDonough for more than 22 years and was widely known for his high standard of business ethics. He was the son of the late H. J. Copeland, Sr., and Mrs. Emma Reagan Copeland.

MATTIE JANE WEEMS FARGASON (1886-1938) - Newspaper Clipping, McDonough, Georgia - The death of Mrs. Frank Fargason, which occurred at her home near McDonough Tuesday morning (May 3, 1938), was a source of genuine sorrow to many friends and relatives throughout the county.

She was a member of Turner's Methodist Church and was faithful in her devotion to its services. Funeral services were conducted there Wednesday afternoon with Rev. C. B. Drake, pastor of the Zebulon Methodist Church, officiating. He was assisted by Rev. W. C. Oakes, pastor of the McDonough Baptist Church. Interment was in the churchyard at Turner's.

WILLIAM GREEN COPELAND (1856-) - ATLANTA JOURNAL-CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Georgia, November 18, 1956 - William Green Copeland was born on November 18, 1856 in Henry County, Georgia, and grew up on a 400-acre farm five miles west of McDonough. In 1885, Mr. Copeland was married to Miss Ella Carmichael, who died in 1894. The Carmichaels had meanwhile moved to Texas, but Mr. Copeland followed them to the town of Henrietta, in the Lone Star State, where he courted his first wife's younger sister, Miss Annie, whom he married in 1902. For a few years, from 1920 to 1927, Mr. Copeland lived in Florida. He worked with the Coca-Cola Co. in St. Petersburg. He sold his mercantile store in McDonough in 1929.

Afterwards, he helped his son, Willis Elliott Copeland, 52, who is in the decorating and building business in McDonough.

WILLIAM RALEIGH CRUMBLEY (1898-1955) - Newspaper Clipping, McDonough, Georgia - William Raleigh Crumbley, 57, died Wednesday night, August 17 (1955), at Emory University Hospital. He had been in poor health for some time and was quite ill for several weeks prior to death.

Born and reared in Henry County, the late Mr. Crumbley moved to Atlanta in 1926 to accept a position with Gulf Oil Corp. He maintained a responsible position with that company until April, 1946, when he moved his family back to their present residence to set up a business of his own. He was an active member of Salem Baptist Church and served as chorister there for several years.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon from Salem Baptist Church with Rev. George White, Rev. H. P. McDonald, and Rev. C. L. Chastine officiating.

HOWARD LESLIE CARMICHAEL (1882-1957) - ATLANTA JOURNAL, Atlanta, Georgia, January 29, 1957 - Funeral services for Howard L. Carmichael, 74, former East Point mayor and funeral director, will be held Wednesday at the First Methodist Church in East Point. The Rev. George O. King and the Rev. E. C. Wilson will officiate. Burial will be in McDonough City Cemetery.

Mr. Carmichael died Monday (Jan. 28) at his home in East Point after an illness of six months.

Mr. Carmichael had been a mortician since 1904. A native of Henry County, he transferred his firm from McDonough to East Point in 1923. He served as mayor of East Point from 1932-1936, having also served eight years on the city council. A member of the First Methodist Church, he also belonged to the Yaarab Temple's 100 Club and the East Point Masonic Lodge.

TRUMAN ASBURY LIFSEY, JR. (1908-1953) - PALM BEACH POST AND TIMES, West Palm Beach, Florida - Funeral services for Truman A. Lifsey, Jr., 45, who died Thursday (April 16, 1953) in a Philadelphia hospital, will be held Saturday at Mizell-Simon-Faville Chapel, with the Rev. O. H. Callis, of the First Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be at Hillcrest Cemetery.

Mr. Lifsey was born in McDonough, Georgia, and attended military school in Barnesville, Georgia. He was 18 when he moved to Florida and soon afterward became connected with the old Central Farmers Trust Co. as a teller. At the time of his death, Mr. Lifsey was head of the investment firm of Truman A. Lifsey Co. in Palm Beach.

JAMES MACKLIN CARMICHAEL (1878-1949) - Newspaper Clipping, McDonough, Georgia - James Macklin Carmichael, prominent planter, merchant, and manufacturer, died at his home in McDonough Saturday (Oct. 8, 1949). He had been in ill health for several months.

Mr. Carmichael was born and reared in this county and had spent most of his life in McDonough. In his early manhood he was associated with his father, the late B. B. Carmichael, in the mercantile business here. His first manufacturing enterprise was established in Atlanta about thirty years ago. It was the J. M. Carmichael Furniture Co., Inc., which, in 1931 was moved to McDonough and became one of the largest industrial plants in this section. He was president of this firm at the time of his death. He served as an elder in the Presbyterian Church for more than 20 years and was a member of the Masonic Lodge.

The funeral service was held Sunday afternoon at the residence with his pastor, the Rev. John A. Hayes, officiating. The body was buried in the McDonough, Ga., cemetery.

HUGH WILSON CARMICHAEL (1808-1883) - MIDDLE GEORGIA ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, September 22, 1883 - The death of Mr. H. W. Carmichael who had been in bad health for several years past occurred on Sunday last (Sept. 16) at his home in Towaliga District. He was one of the old landmarks of Butts County, having been a citizen since his earliest manhood. He was a true Christian gentleman, having been a member of the Presbyterian Church for many years. At the time of his death he was 75 years of age. He leaves a widow and six children besides a large number of friends to mourn his death.

JOHN DAVID ARNOLD (1883-) - John David Arnold was born on September 9, 1883 at Albertville, Alabama, to John A. Arnold and Cora Cornelia Thaxton Arnold. Mr. Arnold graduated from Drake University of Des Moines, Iowa, in June of 1912. Upon graduation, he went to Manhattan, Kansas, as pastor of the First Christian Church, serving the Church until January of 1915. Between 1915 and 1920, Rev. Arnold served as pastor of the Christian Church in Ft. Smith, Arkansas, and Fayetteville, Arkansas. In June of 1920, he began his second pastorate at the First Christian Church in Manhattan, Kansas. He served this Church until his retirement on September 9, 1951. Upon his retirement, he was elected Pastor Emeritus.

FRANCES LOUISE JONES THAXTON (1873-1953) - GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, September 28, 1953 - Mrs. Frances Jones Thaxton, widow of the late Mr. J. Reese Thaxton, died early yesterday morning (Sept. 27) following an illness since July. She was born in Cowetta County, Ga., and had been a resident of Griffin for the past 50 years. She was a devoted member of the First Christian Church. Her husband was for many years a merchant and funeral director in Griffin before his death in 1934.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at Haisten's Chapel with the Rev. John Thompson officiating and burial was in Berea Cemetery at Hampton.

JAMES RALPH THAXTON (1901-) - James Ralph Thaxton was born March 23, 1901 in Griffin, Georgia, to James Reese Thaxton and Frances Louise Jones Thaxton. He received his AB degree in 1921 from the University of Georgia and his MA degree from the same institution in 1924. He received his Ph.D. degree from Indiana University. Dr. Thaxton became instructor of Romance Languages in 1922 at the University of Georgia, becoming a Professor in 1939. He was appointed assistant dean at the University of Georgia in November of 1941, having charge of Coordinate College. He was also Registrar for about three years and left Georgia in 1949 to become President of Georgia State Women's College at Valdosta, now known as Valdosta State College. He began his duties in Valdosta in 1950.

OSCAR LITTLE WEAVER (1873-1944) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, October 12, 1944 - O. L. Weaver, Sr., one of the county's prominent and beloved citizens, died at his home in the Towaliga Community Sunday afternoon (Oct. 8) after a long illness. Born in Butts County 71 years ago, he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weaver, influential residents of the county. During an active career Mr. Weaver was one of the county's best farmers and took an active interest in education and public affairs. He was a deacon in the Towaliga Baptist Church.

Largely attended funeral services were held at Fellowship Church Monday afternoon. Rev. G. A. Briggs of the Baptist Church, Rev. E. M. Wise of the Methodist Church, and Rev. W. H. Styles, pastor at Fellowship, conducted the services. Burial was in the churchyard with Thornton Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

JAMES FRANKLIN CARMICHAEL (1844-1912) - Taken from Newspaper Clippings from Jackson, Georgia - Tuesday evening (Oct. 1, 1912), while walking alone from the Southern depot to his home, Judge James F. Carmichael was stricken with apoplexy and died thirty minutes thereafter. He was returning from a short visit to his daughter in Atlanta. He was born in Towaliga District, Butts County, on January 10, 1844. He received his education in "the old field schools" of this county and afterwards taught in the same school. He was probably the oldest alumnus of the University of Georgia in this county. He took a literary degree at the State University but studied law while ordinary. As ordinary he served the people for twenty years and was chairman of the committee that had charge in the building of the present court house.

When Company A, of the famous Thirtieth Georgia Regiment, was made up in Butts County in the summer of 1861, he enlisted as a private and was later promoted to orderly sergeant. He was wounded at Jonesboro on the 31st of August, 1864.

When the First National Bank was organized here in 1900 Judge Carmichael was made cashier and on the death of J. R. Carmichael he was elected to the presidency of that institution. For the last several years he has devoted his entire time to his insurance and real estate business in Jackson. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and was a deacon in that church at the time of his death. For a number of years he served as superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday School.

The funeral took place from the residence Wednesday afternoon and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. James Bradley and Dr. Robert Van Deventer. Interment was in the City Cemetery.

IDA HELEN BARBOUR CARMICHAEL (1881-) - Ida Carmichael was first interested in musical composition, receiving her early training in Boston, with Chadwick and others. Later, after studying at the Cincinnati Art Academy, and with Reginald Grooms, art became her major interest. While in France, an opportunity to become more familiar with abstract and non-objective painting resulted in an active interest in the organization of space and color to express mood. A trip to Alaska with her brother, who knows Alaska's different aspects and moods, resulted in many sketches and some abstracts. In these she has tried to express the mood and color of that unusual region.

Mrs. Carmichael is a teacher of Art at Walnut Hills High School (Cincinnati, Ohio). She is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, has a Doctor's degree in Art Education, and has had her work exhibited in many important art shows. She is listed in "Who's Who in Art in America", "Who's Who in the Middle West", and in "Who's Who in America" in January (1953).

PAULINE FRANCES THAXTON ROBINSON (1876-1953) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, October 8, 1953 - Relatives in Butts County and this section are sorry to know of the death of Mrs. W. H. Robinson, the former Miss Pauline Frances Thaxton of Jackson, which occurred September 25 at her home in Jacksonville, Fla. Funeral services were held Saturday with burial in Riverside Memorial Park in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Robinson was born October 29, 1876, daughter of the late David J. Thaxton, one of the early editors of Jackson newspapers, and Mrs. Margaret C. Carmichael Thaxton. She taught for several years and in 1901 she was married to William H. Robinson of Topeka, Kansas. After moving to Folkston, Ga., Mrs. Robinson was editor of the Charlton County Herald for 17 years and served as president of the Eleventh District Press Association. She was a member of the Folkston Baptist Church and in 1950 she joined the Riverside Presbyterian Church in Jacksonville.

She was a sister of the late Dr. Oscie A. Thaxton, professor of education at GSCW in Milledgeville and widely known educator.

JOHN ROBERT CARMICHAEL (1856-1908) - John Robert Carmichael was born in Butts County, Georgia, on October 7, 1856, the youngest of eight children of Hugh Wilson Carmichael and Agnes Knox (Nancy) Thompson Carmichael. Mr. Carmichael attended the University of Georgia at Athens for a year and a half, after which he taught school for two years. He began a guano business in Jackson, Georgia, in 1883 and in February of 1887 began the manufacture of wagons, carriages, and buggies. Mr. Carmichael died on February 14, 1908 on his Twenty-fourth Wedding Anniversary.

ROSA ANN ELIZABETH KINARD CARMICHAEL (1865-1953) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, July 16, 1953 - Mrs. Rosa A. Carmichael, one of the county's widely beloved women and one of its oldest residents, died at her home in Jackson, July 9. She had been gravely ill for several days. As Rosa Ann Elizabeth Kinard, daughter of the late Barney C. Kinard and Prudence Vickers Kinard, she was born November 14, 1865 and observed her 87th birthday the past fall. She descended from pioneer families of Towaliga District and Butts County.

On February 14, 1884 she married the late J. R. Carmichael, banker and carriage manufacturer, and made her home in Jackson for a long period of years. She was a member of the Jackson Presbyterian Church.

Funeral services were held at the residence Friday. The Rev. Wade H. Bell, pastor of the Jackson Presbyterian Church, and Dr. R. MacFerrin Crowe, pastor of the North Avenue Presbyterian Church in Atlanta, officiated. Burial was in the family lot in the Jackson cemetery under the direction of Peacock & Ball Funeral Home.

THOMAS JACKSON DEMPSEY, JR. (1886-1948) - THE BANNER-HERALD, Athens, Georgia, June 9, 1948 - T. J. Dempsey, Jr., 61, of Watkinsville, widely known in educational circles in Georgia and the South, died in a local hospital Wednesday morning (June 9) after an illness of several months. Services are to be held Thursday afternoon from the residence in Watkinsville where he had lived for the past thirteen years, with Rev. Henry T. Smith, pastor of Kirkwood Methodist Church, Atlanta, officiating. Burial will follow in the cemetery at Jackson, Ga., his former home.

Mr. Dempsey was born in Jackson, Ga., November 3, 1886, the son of Thomas Jackson and America (Smith) Dempsey. He received his AB degree in 1908 from Old Emory College at Oxford, Ga., and at Emory University, Atlanta, in 1925. He took graduate work at Mercer, Emory, and the University of Chicago, and received his MA degree from the University of Georgia in 1934.

On April 20, 1910, he married Bertha B. Carmichael of Jackson, Ga., and they had ten children.

He was a merchant and farmer at Jackson, being manager of Jack Dempsey & Company, Dempsey Hardware Company, and Jackson Farms from 1908 until 1933. In 1915, he served as Secretary of the Georgia Hardware Association. In 1917-1918, he was in the government service in Atlanta.

Mr. Dempsey began his career as an educator in 1922 when he became instructor, coach, and principal of the Jackson High School, a post he held for six years. He was school superintendent in Butts County, Ga., from 1928 to 1933. From 1933 until 1939, he was State High School Supervisor and also served as Director of State School Supervision and University of Georgia Inspector of High Schools. Since 1939, he had been connected with the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation, State Department of Education.

He is listed in "Who's Who In American Education", and "Directory of Leaders in Education".

ALVIN HUGH DEMPSEY (1920-) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, December 24, 1953 - A. Hugh Dempsey, associate horticulturist at the Georgia Experiment Station, and son of the late Prof. T. J. Dempsey and Mrs. Dempsey of Jackson and Watkinsville, will receive his Ph. D. degree from Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, December 18. His thesis was "Certain Fruit and Plant Characters in Capsicum Frutescens".

He has been with the Experiment Station (Griffin, Ga.) since January 1, 1948 where he has been engaged chiefly in pimienta research. He received his BSA degree from the University of Georgia in 1942 and his masters from the same institution in 1947. Dr. Dempsey will continue his research work at the horticultural department of the Georgia Experiment Station.

AMBROSE HOMER CARMICHAEL (1886-) - Taken from ATLANTA AND ENVIRONS - FAMILY AND PERSONAL HISTORY by Franklin M. Garrett. Vol. III, Page 97. Lewis Historical Publishing Co., Inc., New York, New York; 1954. -

Born at Jackson, Georgia, on July 27, 1886, Ambrose Homer Carmichael is the son of John Robert and Rosa Ann Elizabeth (Kinard) Carmichael. His father, who died in 1908, was the organizer and president of the First National Bank in Jackson, Georgia. His mother died in 1953. He attended the Georgia Military Academy, College Park, Georgia, for a year before entering the University of Georgia at Athens, where he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts with the class of 1907. The first position he took after leaving the University was vice president and cashier of the First National Bank of Jackson, remaining here from 1907 to 1913. After the passing of his father, he was elected president of the Carmichael Buggy Company, of Jackson, holding this post in addition to his bank position. In 1913, he came to Atlanta, where he was made credit and collection manager of The Southern Cotton Oil Company, and in 1918 was elected manager of peanut sales of this same company, holding this post to 1922.

In 1922 with J. B. Latimer as a partner, he formed the firm of Latimer and Carmichael in Atlanta, shelled peanut brokers. In 1932, Mr. Carmichael formed his own company, A. H. Carmichael Company, shelled peanut brokers, of which his son, Jackson Broadus Carmichael, is secretary.

While residing in Jackson, Mr. Carmichael was a member of the City School Board in 1909. On February 24, 1910, at the residence of the bride in Atlanta, Georgia, Mr. Carmichael married Carolyn Jackson Willingham, daughter of Benjamin Lawton and Maggie Seely (Wood) Willingham, her father being originally of Albany, Georgia, and her mother of Richmond, Virginia. Four children were born to this union: Marjorie Elizabeth Carmichael Kontz, A. Homer Carmichael, Jr. (1917-1939), Ben Willingham Carmichael, and Jackson Broadus Carmichael.

Of the Presbyterian faith, he is an elder in the North Avenue Presbyterian Church in Atlanta, Georgia.

BERT KINARD CARMICHAEL (1893-1938) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, March 24, 1938 - Bert Kinard Carmichael, 45 years of age, widely known Jackson druggist, died at his home here Wednesday afternoon (March 23) of a sudden heart attack. He was born in Jackson Feb. 7, 1893 a son of J. R. Carmichael, pioneer buggy manufacturer, banker, and business executive, and Mrs. Rosa Kinard Carmichael.

He attended the Jackson public schools and the University of Georgia. He then completed a course in pharmacy and entered business by becoming a member of the firm of Woods-Carmichael Drug Company. Later the firm was changed to Carmichael Drug and Book Company and then to Carmichael Drug Company. He represented the first ward on the city council for 2 or 3 terms, served as superintendent of the Sunday School and a deacon in the Presbyterian Church, and as a member of the executive committee of the Flint River Council of Boy Scouts for some years. He was a charter member of the Jackson Kiwanis Club and had been a director of the Jackson Ice Corporation for several years.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Thursday afternoon and his pastor, Rev. Eugene Daniel, will officiate. Interment will be in the family lot in the Jackson cemetery.

ROSALIE CARMICHAEL JOYNER (1895-1925) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, May 29, 1925 - The death of Mrs. J. L. Joyner, which occurred at her home in Cedartown at an early hour Wednesday morning (May 27), came as a profound shock to friends and relatives here. As Miss Rosalie Carmichael, daughter of the late Mr. J. R. Carmichael and Mrs. Carmichael, she married J. Luther Joyner, a leading business man of Cedartown, on September 23, 1913.

The body was brought to Jackson Wednesday night and the funeral services were conducted Thursday morning from the home of Mrs. J. R. Carmichael. Rev. J. S. Hartsfield, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated. The body was laid to rest in the Jackson City Cemetery.

JOSEPH LUTHER JOYNER (1894-1941) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, September 25, 1941 - The death of Joseph Luther Joyner, 48 years of age, former resident of Jackson, occurred in a hospital at Longview, Texas, Tuesday morning (Sept. 23). Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Joyner of Griffin, formerly of Jackson, he was born and reared here and started a business career on Jackson newspapers. Later he was engaged in the furniture business in Spartanburg, S. C., and some years ago he removed to Texas where he was active in business affairs.

Funeral services were held in Longview and the body was brought to Jackson for burial. Graveside services were held at the Jackson cemetery Thursday afternoon and interment was in the family lot.

JOHN EDWARD CARMICHAEL (1899-1956) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, November 15, 1956 - Funeral services for J. Edward Carmichael, 57, Butts County Tax Receiver, were held Monday at the Jackson Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Wade H. Bell, Jr., pastor, the Rev. G. A. Briggs, and the Rev. Kirk Nesbit, officiating. Interment was in the Jackson City Cemetery under the direction of Haisten Funeral Home.

Elected Nov. 6 to another term as Tax Receiver, an office he had held continuously since 1929, death claimed the popular official Saturday night (Nov. 10) at his Jackson residence, less than a week after his election.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Carmichael, Sr., he had been crippled by arthritis since 1940. His fight against the disease began in his junior year of high school and for the past 16 years he had been confined to his bed and wheel chair.

He was an elder in the Jackson Presbyterian Church and served for several years as Superintendent and teacher in its Sunday School. For several years prior to being elected Tax Receiver, he worked with his brother, the late Bert Carmichael, Sr., in the old Carmichael Drug Co.

LOLLIE CAROLINE CARMICHAEL McNEICE (1906-1955) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, February 10, 1955 - Funeral services were held in Dallas, Texas, Saturday for Mrs. E. Stanley McNeice, the former Miss Lollie Carmichael, whose death at midnight Wednesday (Feb. 2) resulted after an illness dating from the past August. Burial was in Dallas. As the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Carmichael, she attended the Jackson schools and the Georgia State College for Women at Milledgeville and completed her education at Brenau College, Gainesville. While living here Mrs. McNeice was a member of the Presbyterian Church. Following her marriage to Mr. McNeice, widely known traveling salesman, the family had resided in Atlanta and Dallas. After moving to Dallas she became a member of the Presbyterian Church there.

ROBERT CARTER CARMICHAEL (1834-1881) - MIDDLE GEORGIA ARGUS, Indian Springs, Georgia, May 12, 1881 - It becomes our painful duty to announce the present death of one of our most highly esteemed and dearly beloved fellow citizens, Mr. Carter Carmichael, which occurred in Jackson on Saturday afternoon last (May 7). Mr. Carmichael had just rode into town and died in the process of dismounting from his horse near Mr. Duke's store. His death is supposed to have been caused by dropsy of the heart.

ROSANNAH ELIZABETH HARKNESS CARMICHAEL (1842-1925) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, December 11, 1925 - In the death of Mrs. Rose E. Carmichael which occurred at her home on East Third Street Monday afternoon (Dec. 7) Jackson lost one of its oldest and most widely beloved women. She had been ill for only a few weeks. Mrs. Carmichael, who was born June 24, 1842, was a daughter of the late Judge James W. Harkness and Mrs. Martha Boyd Harkness, her mother being from Opelika, Alabama. She became a member of the Jackson Baptist Church when sixteen years old and for sixty eight years had been a faithful, loyal, and devoted member. She was the oldest member of this church.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church Wednesday morning. The services were conducted by her former pastor, Dr. Robert Van Deventer, of Newport News, Va., assisted by Rev. Augustus Ernest, pastor of the Methodist Church. The body was laid to rest in the family lot in the Jackson City Cemetery.

MARY ELIZABETH CARMICHAEL NEWTON (1863-1943) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, July 8, 1943 - The news of the death of Mrs. W. A. Newton, Sr., early Tuesday morning (July 6) at the Griffin Hospital brought genuine sadness to many friends throughout this section of the state. Mrs. Newton, who was 79, was in declining health for only a short time. She was the widow of the late William Aris Newton, one of Butts County's most successful business men and planters. The eldest daughter of Carter Carmichael and Mrs. Rose Harkness Carmichael, she had lived in the county all of her life. She had been a member of the Jackson Baptist Church since girlhood.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the home. Rev. Gaither Briggs, pastor of the Jackson Baptist Church, conducted the impressive services. Interment was in the family lot in the Jackson cemetery.

WILLIAM ARIS NEWTON, SR. (1853-1939) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia - Impressive funeral services for Mr. William Aris Newton, Sr., 86 years of age, one of the county's oldest and most prominent citizens, whose death occurred early Monday (Sept. 25, 1939) after a short illness, were held at the home Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. Gaither A. Briggs, pastor of the First Baptist Church, conducted the services. Burial was in the family lot in the Jackson cemetery.

Descendant of leading middle Georgia families, Mr. Newton was born April 4, 1853, a son of Ezekiel Park Newton and Nancy Webb Newton. A Loyal member of the First Baptist Church, he was president of Newton Hardware Company and interested in other business enterprises, which together with the operation of his farm, occupied his attention.

New York, New York

The name LESTER originates in England. During the Roman occupation of Britain (55 B.C. - 400 A.D.), a military stronghold called Leicastra was maintained in what is now Leicestershire, the principal city of which today is Leicester. LESTER is simply a phonetic spelling of Leicester. By 1620, the simpler spelling seems to have been generally in use among those Lester families whose members came to the American Colonies.

In the North, Lesters who were Quakers are said to have settled in Pennsylvania about 1690. Other Lesters were early in New York and the New England Colonies.

In Virginia, there have been Lesters since 1623. Four Lester brothers are said to have settled in York and adjoining counties between 1623 and 1663. An Englishman, John Lester, was master of a ship, Blessing, which brought settlers to Virginia. It is conceivable that he induced some of his relatives to come to the new country. From a Bryant Lester of Lunenburg County, Virginia, is descended the Bankhead family of Jasper, Alabama. Early Virginia records contain references to many Lesters. There is now (1937) a Lester Manor postoffice in Eastern Virginia.

In 1729, the area then known as Carolina was divided into two sections, North Carolina and South Carolina, the latter at that time containing only two settlements, Charleston and Beaufort. In this low-country, in the Williamsburg District, there were Lesters as early as 1700. In 1730, official plans for developing the inland (up-country) sections of the region attracted people from other colonies, and from abroad. About 1740, a group of German colonists settled in Newberry District along the Saluda River in a section thereafter known as the Dutch Fork*. In 1753-54, a John Lester was granted land in Newberry District. To this vicinity, from Virginia, came James Lester (1730?-1805) and his wife Caterina, with their young son, Charles Lester (1755?-1827) sometime before 1760. Father and son were in the Revolutionary army. The Lesters - and they soon became numerous in South Carolina - lived chiefly on Big Creek, Hawlick Creek, and the Saluda River. There is also a Lester postoffice in Marlboro District today (1937).

Charles Lester married Jane Musgrove, the daughter of a prosperous nearby family. One of their children was Alfred Marcus, or Musgrove, Lester (1805-92), who lived in the neighboring Lexington District during 1830-37; during the final three years of that period, he was overseer on the plantation of Daniel Leapheart, near Columbia. Today (1937) there is a village called Leapheart in this region.

*Dutch Fork is the district between the Broad and Saluda Rivers from where they converge at Columbia, (S.C.), to within 3½ miles of Newberry, South Carolina, Courthouse, and it is still called by that name. It had a German settlement in 1745. It is in the northern part of what is now (1954) Lexington County, S. C., called Orangeburg District, then map of 1796.

In 1837, Alfred and his wife, Mary Ann Poindexter, whom he had married in 1831, moved to Shelby County, Alabama. They probably went from South Carolina along a southeasterly line through Augusta, Ga., Macon or Fort Valley, Columbus or Fort Mitchell, through country then recently cleared of Creek Indians by various treaties. This period was the "flush times" era in Alabama and Mississippi. In passing through Georgia, it seems probable that Alfred M. and Mary Ann Lester saw other Lesters who had previously left Newberry District, since it is known that their relatives David*, George, John E. , Joseph, Dennis, and a Samuel Lester* had moved into Baldwin and Jones County, Ga., in 1806-7. Early land grants in Georgia, probably for Revolutionary or Indian War service, had been made to Alfred, Jacob, Thomas, James D., Jeremiah, John, Joseph and Nixon Lester.

In Shelby County, Alabama, Alfred M. and Mary Ann Lester settled on Yellow Leaf Creek, on land which is today (1937) about nine miles northwest of Columbiana, three miles south of Chelsea, and twenty miles in a direct line from Birmingham. They and their offspring developed a community centering around Lester's Chapel. Now (1937), a century later, scores of their descendants, bearing the Lester, Nolen, Watson, Walton, Poindexter, and Wingard names, are to be found within a radius of fifteen miles of the Chapel, or in the neighboring Jefferson County.

Alfred's brother, Smith Lester, also came from South Carolina to this section of North Alabama, but moved about 1875 to near Hamilton, Texas, where many of his descendants are thought now (1937) to live.

Before 1600, some of the Lesters probably went from England to Ireland and Scotland, and after 1600 thence in order to Virginia to South Carolina to Georgia to Alabama to Texas and to the middle west. In each region some members of the family settled permanently, while others by foot, on horseback, or by wagon, sooner or later pushed on to new places, following the expanding frontier.

LESTER LINE

- I. DAVID LESTER, SR.*, born April 8, 1796 at Dutch Fork, Newberry District, South Carolina - died May 6, 1874 at Oakland, Lester District, Jones County, Georgia, married Elizabeth Mullins, born December 12, 1804 in Hancock County, Georgia - died December 24, 1862 in Macon, Georgia. Eight children were born to this union: Pleant Lester, died as a young man; Elizabeth Lester, who married a Mr. Holleman; Sarah Lester Gove; Herietta Lester, who married twice: 1. a Mr. Alldredge, and 2. a Mr. Morris; Adelaide Lester, who married Tom Hogan; Virginia Lester Means; David W. Lester; and Mary Anne Lester, who married twice: 1. a Mr. Miller, and 2. a Mr. Martin.

David Lester, Sr., and Elizabeth Mullins Lester are buried in the Sam F. Gove lot in Rose Hill Cemetery in Macon, Georgia.

- II. SARAH LESTER married Rev. Sam F. Gove, born March 9, 1823 in Weymouth, Massachusetts - died December 3, 1900.

Rev. Sam F. Gove is buried in Rose Hill Cemetery in Macon, Georgia.

- II. VIRGINIA LESTER married M. H. Means. One child was born to this union: Alice Means, who married Mr. A. A. Smoak.
- II. DAVID W. LESTER, born 1832 - died 1886, married Miss Lou Calhoun. No children were born to this union.

DAVID W. LESTER's second marriage was to Sarah Mustaine Skinner Patton^I, born 1842 - died 1901. Eight children were born to this union: Ilda Lester Mahone; Annie Lester Budd; Gertrude G. Lester, born 1872 - died 1927; Maud L. Lester, born 1874 - died 1889; Clifford Lester, died as a baby in 1876; Lovick Pierce Lester; Hugh David Lester; and Vida Mustaine Lester MacDonell.

David W. Lester, Sarah Mustaine Skinner Patton Lester, Gertrude G. Lester, Maud L. Lester, and Clifford Lester are buried in the Lester Family Cemetery which is 4.25 miles from Haddock in Jones County, Georgia.

*According to records from Mrs. A. A. Smoak (now deceased) from Perry, Georgia, in a letter written to Miss Anne Lester, now Mrs. William Walker Ware, Jr., on August 23, 1934 it states that David Lester, Sr., had two brothers - John E. Lester, born in Newberry District, S. C., in 1787; and Dennis Lester, born in Newberry District, S. C., in 1794. John E. Lester probably came to Jones County, Georgia, first in 1808; should have been 21 years of age. John E. Lester moved from Jones County, Georgia, to Seale, Russell County, Alabama, about 1848 or 1850. There is a record in Jones County, Ga., where Dennis and David Lester administered on Estate of Samuel Lester in 1840 (with two other men).

^ISarah Mustaine Skinner's first marriage was to Captain John G. Patton, First Georgia Regiment, C.S.A., who was killed at Manassas. Child: John G. Patton. Sarah's mother, Matilda D. Skinner (1815-1886), is buried in the Lester Family Cemetery in Jones County, Georgia.

DAVID RUDOLPHUS SNELLING - (REF.: - Taken from The Atlanta Journal, Atlanta, Georgia, January 22, 1957. Written by Hugh Park. Research by James C. Bonner, professor of history, Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville, Georgia).

One of the most ruthless followers of Gen. Sherman in his march to the sea was a native Georgian, and a deserter from the Confederate Army. Thousands of Southerners fought with the Union Army but few, like David Rudolphus Snelling, changed from one side to another - and even fewer with such vengeance.

Tracing the strange story of this young man who lived and grew up near Milledgeville in The Georgia Review, the excellent quarterly of the University of Georgia, Mr. Bonner found that David lost his father when he was a child. His mother moved to Fortville in Jones County, 12 miles from Milledgeville, where three of her prosperous brothers lived.

They were John, Dennis, and David Lester whose plantations adjoined, stretching altogether for 4,000 acres. The Jones tax digest of 1860 shows each brother was worth over $50,000. They had 150 slaves.

The Lesters had three sons somewhat older who enjoyed unusual advantages in a section dominated by large land-owning families. Throughout his life Snelling never forgot that the cousin nearest his own age was sent to college while he was sent to the fields to oversee the slaves.

When war broke out, he enlisted as a private in the 57th Georgia regiment. Less than three months later he deserted and joined the Union cavalry, where he became a lieutenant. At one time he even fought against his old regiment.

But he is remembered chiefly in Georgia as a member of Sherman's cavalry escort. His outfit was notorious for having destroyed more civilian property than any other unit. At one time its officers were threatened with arrest and dismissal by Federal military authorities.

Lieutenant Snelling sat on his horse Nov. 22, 1864, on a windswept hill 10 miles from Milledgeville. He had returned with Sherman to his home country. It was the coldest November night in the memory of residents and campfires of burning fence rails dotted the hills and valleys.

Snelling asked special permission to visit a big plantation house six miles ahead. Late that night he arrived at the house, that of his uncle, David Lester, with whom he had lived. His mother now dead, had named him after his uncle.

There, according to old records and memoirs, he seized fresh horses, several hundred dollars and, in farewell, burned down the gin house.

On his discharge from the Union Army, Snelling had the nerve to return to the same neighborhood. A friend warned him a few days later he was going to be killed and he fled at night on horseback, leaving behind his possessions.

He settled in Arkansas and never corresponded with his Georgia relatives. He became addicted to drink, but later gave it up at the insistence of his gentle wife. He died in his 60s in 1901.

MARY ANN ANDREWS EVANS (1838-1931) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, March 6, 1931 - In the death of Mrs. Mary Ann Evans, aged 92, which occurred Wednesday morning (March 4) at her home near Jackson, Butts County lost its oldest resident and one of its most widely beloved citizens. Her passing followed an illness of only a week.

Mrs. Evans before her marriage was Miss Mary Ann Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Andrews, prominent early residents of the county. She was the oldest member of Towaliga Church, having joined in 1858 and for 72 years had a record of loyal and active service as a church worker. She was the widow of the late Mr. John B. Evans, successful farmer and Confederate veteran.

Funeral services will be held at Towaliga Church Thursday afternoon with the Rev. C. C. Heard, of Locust Grove, officiating. Interment will be in the family lot in the church cemetery.

JOHN B. EVANS (1834-1914) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, July 3, 1914 - Following a period of illness extending over several months, Mr. John B. Evans, one of Butts County's leading farmers, died at his home near here Sunday night (June 28). Mr. Evans, who was in his 80th year, was a sterling citizen. He was a Mason and had been a member of Towaliga Baptist Church for fifty four years. He bore the scars of battle, having fought valiantly for the Confederacy.

The funeral was held at Towaliga Church Monday afternoon and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. T. H. Vaughn, assisted by Rev. James Bradley.

CLAUDE ANDREWS EVANS (1878-1946) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia - Claude A. Evans, 69 years of age, former Butts County resident, died May 20 (1946) in the Georgia Baptist Hospital following an illness of several weeks. Born and reared here, he was a son of the late John B. Evans and his wife Mrs. Mary Ann Andrews Evans. He had made his home in Atlanta for several years where he was formerly a traveling salesman and later engaged in business. He was a member of the Towaliga Baptist Church.

Funeral services were held at Towaliga Church Wednesday and Rev. J. B. Stodghill officiated. Burial was in Towaliga churchyard with Thornton Funeral Home directing arrangements.

ABNER HARRISON COLWELL (1878-1912) - BUTTS COUNTY PROGRESS, Jackson, Georgia, October 4, 1912 - Mr. A. H. Colwell, one of the most prominent young farmers in the county and a member of a leading family, was found dead near his home in the western part of the county Wednesday morning (Oct. 2). The verdict of the coroner's jury was that he came to his death at his own hands. He was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Colwell and was 34 years of age.

The funeral took place Thursday morning at Fellowship Church and was largely attended.

PAUL JOHN EVANS (1884-1955) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, January 6, 1955 - Paul J. Evans, 70, member of a prominent Butts County family, secretary and treasurer of the Central Georgia Electric Membership Corporation, died Tuesday (Jan. 4) in the Griffin-Spalding Hospital as the result of a heart ailment. Son of Mrs. Mary Ann Andrews Evans and John B. Evans, he was born in Butts County. He was a farmer and dairyman and was active in community affairs. He was a member of Towaliga Baptist Church.

Funeral services are to be conducted at Towaliga Baptist Church Thursday and burial will be in the churchyard. Arrangements are in charge of Haisten Funeral Home.

PAUL JULIAN EVANS (1912-1937) - Taken in part from the JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, January 15, 1937 - What started out to be an interesting trip for a detachment of the Jackson Rifles, Company A, 121st Infantry, Georgia National Guard, was turned into grim tragedy when the army truck in which the men were riding overturned near Jenkinsburg shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday morning (Jan. 12). Julian Evans, aged 24, and Ferrell Maddox received fatal injuries and died a few hours later.

Twenty-two men from Company A were selected to attend the inauguration of Governor Rivers and trucks were sent here to transport them to Atlanta. The first truck passed an oil car and the second detachment was attempting to pass when the wreck occurred.

Julian Evans was a private, first class, and had served from 6 to 8 years in the local company. He was a member of Towaliga Church where funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon. He was buried with full military honors.

LAURA BANKS (1868-1896) - GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, June 8, 1896 - The funeral of Miss Laura Banks occurred yesterday morning at the residence of Col. E. W. Hammond. The services were conducted by Rev. T. W. O'Kelly. The music was well selected, appropriate and beautifully rendered by a volunteer choir. The large residence was filled with friends and many exquisite floral designs were on the casket that contained the dust of that fair sweet spirit that was called home to God. (Miss Banks died on June 5, 1896).

SALLIE ANDREWS HAMMOND (1848-1936) - GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, June 4, 1936 - Mrs. Sallie Hammond, widow of the late Judge E. W. Hammond, one of the most beloved pioneer citizens of Griffin, died at the residence here Wednesday night (June 3). The funeral will be held Friday morning.

from the First Baptist Church, of which Mrs. Hammond was a devoted member. Dr. J. B. Turner, pastor, will officiate and interment will be in Oak Hill Cemetery with Frank Pittman, funeral director, in charge.

Mrs. Hammond was born and reared in Griffin. She was the daughter of the late John Andrews and Sara Loyall Andrews. In 1869 she was married to Judge Hammond, a Confederate veteran, who was judge of the Superior Court here for many years and who also was ordinary of the county for 16 years. She was one of the oldest members of the Dorcas Society of the First Baptist Church.

EDWIN WALTER HAMMOND (1846-1908) - GRIFFIN WEEKLY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, August 21, 1908 - Judge E. W. Hammond, after a long and eventful career, in which he rendered valuable service both in public and private life, passed away at his home on South Hill Street Monday night (Aug. 17). He had been in feeble health for quite awhile.

Edwin W. Hammond was born at Culloden, Monroe County, Georgia, Dec. 28, 1846. At the age of seven years he removed with his parents to Atlanta where he attended school. In 1865, he came to Griffin and immediately commenced the study of the law under his father, the late A. W. Hammond. He was admitted to the bar in McDonough in Oct., 1867, and in March, 1868, he opened a law office at LaGrange, where he resided until March 1, 1870, Leaving LaGrange, Mr. Hammond came to Griffin and had since resided here. On Jan. 16, 1869, he married Miss Sallie Andrews of Griffin.

During his long residence in Griffin Judge Hammond held a number of public offices, to-wit: Justice of Peace, four years; city judge, five years; ordinary, 16 years; judge of the City Court, 11 years; and the city attorney for several years.

He was also a Baptist minister of note, having been ordained as a preacher some ten years ago, and served as pastor of the Baptist Churches at Odessadale, Luella, Shiloh, Woodbury, Vaughn, and many other churches. He was prominent in secret orders, being a member of the subordinate lodge and encampment, Independent Order of Odd Fellows; blue lodge and chapter of the Masons; and as Knight of Pythias.

The funeral will be held at the Baptist Church this morning, conducted by Dr. S. Y. Jameson, after which the remains will be laid to rest at Oak Hill Cemetery.

He was born in Spalding County and had made his home here throughout his lifetime. The final rites will be conducted at Pittman's Chapel Sunday afternoon with Rev. Byron M. Wilkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and Rev. L. W. Blackwelder, rector of St. George's Episcopal Church, officiating. Interment will follow in Oak Hill Cemetery.

MARTHA OPHELIA CONNELL SLATON (1848-1906) - GRIFFIN DAILY HEWS, Griffin, Georgia, September 21, 1906 - Mrs. Slaton, who had been ill for sometime, died at her home on Ninth Street Wednesday night (Sept. 19) at the age of 58 years. She was the relict of the late Capt. C. W. Slaton, and prior to her marriage was Miss Martha Connell. For many years she made Griffin her home and was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

The funeral took place in this city yesterday afternoon. The interment will take place in Jackson at noon today.

CHARLES WILLIAM SLATON (1833-1892) - GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, April 5, 1892 - On Sunday morning (April 3), Capt. C. W. Slaton, a well known and highly respected citizen, breathed his last, at the residence in this city, after an illness of about six months, the cause of his death being dropsy of the heart.

He was born in Butts County, near Jackson, where he resided until shortly after the late war, when he moved to this city, where he has since been engaged in business, being at the time of his death proprietor of the planters warehouse.

His first wife was Miss Lyons, of Jackson; his second being Miss Connell, of this county. He was a member of the Methodist Church and also a member of the Masonic fraternity.

The funeral services were held at the residence on Sunday afternoon and the body was carried to Jackson yesterday for interment.

OLIVER HAZARD PERRY SLATON (1874-1912) - GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, October 27, 1912 - Judge Oliver Hazard Perry Slaton, one of Griffin's best known and most prominent citizens, passed away Saturday morning (Oct. 26) at the home of his brother, Mr. P. J. Slaton, on West Solomon Street, after a lingering illness. Born February 25, 1874, he was the eldest son of the late Capt. and Mrs. Charles William Slaton. After finishing school here, he attended college at Dahlonga and later attended Gordon Institute at Barnesville.

After leaving college, Judge Slaton read law under Cleveland and Hammond, attorneys of this city, and was later admitted to the Griffin bar. Several years ago he was appointed by Governor Allen D. Chandler as solicitor of the city court of Griffin and also served as city attorney of Griffin for several years. He was elected justice of the peace of the Griffin District several years ago and was holding that office at the time of his death. He was an enthusiastic member of the Masons, Odd Fellows, and Elks fraternal orders, taking much interest in all and having served Warren Lodge of Odd Fellows as noble grand.

Funeral services over the body of the deceased will be held at the residence of Mr. P. J. Slaton this morning, conducted by Rev. W. A. Murray, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, in the absence of Rev. J. E. Sammons, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of which he was a member. The interment will be made in the cemetery at Jackson, Ga., today.

CHARLES WILLIAM SLATON (1878-1946) - GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, May 15, 1946 - Mr. Charles William Slaton, 68, died Tuesday night (May 14) at his home on West Poplar Street. He was born in Griffin, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Slaton. He was a member of the First Baptist Church. He was a Mason and a Shriner, and was a prominent business man in Griffin until he was forced to retire because of ill health a few years ago.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at the residence with Dr. J. Ellis Sammons of Macon officiating. Interment will be in Oak Hill Cemetery. Pittman Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

WALTER A. SLATON (1879-1928) - GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, March 22, 1928 - Walter A. Slaton, one of the best known cotton men in Georgia and a prominent Grifinite, died Wednesday night (March 21) in Milledgeville, following an extended illness. The body was brought to Griffin and carried to the home of his brother, C. W. Slaton, where funeral services will be held Friday morning. The Rev. John F. Yarbrough, of Milledgeville, and the Rev. Malcolm Williamson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will officiate and interment will be in Oak Hill Cemetery with Frank S. Pittman, funeral director, in charge.

He was born and reared in Griffin. He was a representative of the Georgia Cotton Company and worked in Albany and Americus for about 15 years. About eight years ago he returned to Griffin and was a member of the firm of Pursley, Slaton and Company and was a representative here for a number of cotton firms. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church, the Elks, and Knights Templar.

PAUL JONES SLATON (1882-1953) - GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, December 28, 1953 - Mr. Paul Slaton, 71, for many years a leading merchant in Griffin, died at his home in Decatur last night. He had been in poor health for many years. He was one of the founders of Slaton-Powell Clothing Company. Later John H. Morrow bought out his interest and the firm was changed to Morrow-Powell Clothing Company. Several years ago he moved to Decatur to make his home.

Many years ago when Griffin was in the old Georgia State Baseball League Mr. Slaton was president of the Griffin Club. He always took a keen interest in baseball and football, this interest being manifested even after he became so sick that he could not attend games.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Decatur Presbyterian Church with Dr. Bruce Boney officiating. Burial will be in the Decatur Cemetery.

AMANDA SWAN CONNELL STRICKLAND (1850-1899) - GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, May 18, 1899 - Mrs. W. T. Strickland died early yesterday morning (May 17) at her home in Cabin District. She had been an invalid for several years. The funeral will occur at the family burying ground this morning.

at the Strickland Memorial Hospital. He was a prominent farmer in Henry County. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon from Union Church with Rev. C. B. Holder officiating.

AMELIA SANDERS CONNELL (1850-1930) - GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, September 29, 1930 - Miss Amelia Connell, one of the pioneer residents of this county, died at her home in Cabins District Saturday afternoon (Sept. 27) after an illness of several months. She was the daughter of the late Thos. H. Connell and Margaret Andrews Connell, and had made her home in this section all her life.

Funeral services were held from the Ringgold Christian Church of which she was a member Sunday afternoon. Rev. C. C. Heard officiated. Interment was made in the family plot in Oak Hill Cemetery with Haisten Brothers, funeral directors, in charge.

WILLIAM J. WOODWARD (1815-1873) and ROBERT J. WOODWARD (1824-1903) - Aaron Woodward, father of Robert J. and William J. Woodward, settled in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and set himself up in the mercantile business. He later came to Georgia on horseback and decided to make his home in this state (Georgia). Returning to close out his Philadelphia interests, he made the second trip to Georgia with his wife, Chloe Anne, a Virginian, in a Jersey wagon bringing with him the merchandise and furnishings with which he furnished a shop and home near the McIntosh Trail between the area now settled as Griffin and Jackson.

The Woodward families were originally from England, the name having been derived from the honorable position of "ward of the guard of the King's forests" and many distinguished members of this family are mentioned in English history, dating as far back as the Norman Conquest.

The records of the Virginia Colony shows that as early as 1620 a Christopher Woodward had come over to Jamestown from the mother country. Other Woodward emigrants followed from time to time, some of whom settled in other colonies, including Mass., N. J., Penna., and Maryland.

JOSEPH AARON WOODWARD (1847-1923) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, January 12, 1923 - Butts County friends of Mr. Joseph A. Woodward, of Griffin, are sorry to learn of his death which occurred Sunday night (Jan. 7) following a stroke of apoplexy. He was a native of Butts County but had been a resident of Griffin for many years. He was a veteran of the Civil War, having entered at the age of 16. The family is well and favorably known in Butts County.

ESTELLE WOODWARD MILLS (1884-1956) - GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, November 26, 1956 - Mrs. Estelle Woodward Mills, wife of Mr. Harvey A. Mills of North Main Street, College Park, Ga., died early Sunday morning (Nov. 25) at her home after an illness of several months. She was a retired school teacher and had taught in Griffin and Hampton before her marriage. Her husband formerly operated Mills Printing Co. in Griffin. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Griffin and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Funeral services were held this morning at the graveside in Oak Hill Cemetery in Griffin. The Rev. H. M. Lindsey officiated.

ROBERT ANDREWS WOODWARD (1851-1922) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, May 26, 1922 - Coming as a shock to a very large number of friends was the death of Mr. R. A. Woodward, which occurred at his home at Jenkinsburg Wednesday morning (May 22). The passing of Mr. Woodward removes one of Butts County's best known and most useful citizens. A member of a pioneer family of the county, he served two terms as county commissioner several years ago and was chairman of the board of tax equalizers, an office he had held since the creation of the board, at the time of his death. He was also a large and successful planter. He was a member of the Baptist Church at Jenkinsburg and was a member of the Jenkinsburg Lodge of Masons.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Jenkinsburg Baptist Church, Dr. I. G. Walker officiating.

MARY CAROLINE BAILEY WOODWARD (1851-1942) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, July 16, 1942 - Mrs. R. A. Woodward, 90 years of age, one of the county's widely beloved women, died early Wednesday (July 15) at Jenkinsburg as the result of complications brought on by a fall suffered Sunday. She was the former Miss Mary Caroline Bailey, daughter of William and Mrs. Maria Crittenden Bailey, members of distinguished Butts County families. She was born Dec. 1, 1851 at the ancestral home on the Jackson-Griffin Road but for the last fifty years had resided at Jenkinsburg. She was a loyal member of the Jenkinsburg Baptist Church.

Funeral services will be held at the Jenkinsburg Baptist Church Thursday afternoon and her pastor, Dr. Leslie L. Williams, of Forsyth, will officiate. Burial will be in the church cemetery with D. T. Carmichael & Sons, funeral directors, in charge.

WILLIE DOUGLAS WOODWARD (1883-1955) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, May 5, 1955 - Jackson and Butts County friends of Miss Willie Woodward were grieved to learn of her death Saturday (April 30) afternoon at a private hospital in Atlanta where she had been a patient for several weeks. "Miss Willie", as she was affectionately known to her countless friends, was the only daughter of the late Robert A. Woodward and Mrs. Mary Caroline Bailey Woodward. She was 71 years of age, and was born in Whitesburg, Carroll County, Georgia. She attended primary grades in Jenkinsburg where the family resided, and later graduated from Locust Grove Institute, the State Normal College at Athens, and the University of Chicago. She taught successfully in many of Georgia's best known schools including Cordele, Jesup, Brunswick, and at Brookhaven where she was teaching prior to her retirement several years ago. She was a member of the Jackson Baptist Church.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Jenkinsburg Baptist Church with Rev. G. A. Briggs of the Jackson Baptist Church and Rev. W. H. Lewis of the Jenkinsburg Methodist Church conducting the service. Interment was in the Jenkinsburg cemetery. Peacock & Ball were in charge of arrangements.

ROBERT DANIEL WOODWARD (1921-) - Robert Daniel Woodward was born July 11, 1921 in Dubach, La., to William Otis Woodward and Annie Newton Greer Woodward. He enlisted in the United States Army Air Force on May 20, 1942 and received his commission as a Second Lieutenant on July 29, 1943. He served overseas in the China-Burma-India Theater of Operations from Oct. 27, 1943 until Oct. 29, 1944 as a fighter pilot. He flew 63 combat missions in a P-40. He was shot down once. He received the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal, and the Purple Heart. He was released from active duty on November 20, 1945.

After World War II, he attended Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in Ruston, La., and Baylor University College of Dentistry in Dallas, Texas, graduating from the latter on June 6, 1949 as a Doctor of Dental Surgery. Dr. Woodward practiced dentistry in Texarkana, Texas, from September 1, 1949 until May 1, 1951 and he is now (1954) practicing dentistry in Carrollton, Texas, a suburb of Dallas.

JOHN CHARLES WOODWARD (1866-1939) - Taken from NOT MADE TO DIE by John Temple Graves, II - John Charles Woodward was born on July 26, 1866 in Butts County, Georgia, to Robert J. Woodward and Martha Andrews Woodward. At the age of 18, after the family had moved to Griffin, Georgia, he expressed a desire to be given his higher education at an institution which offered military training and was sent to the North Georgia Agricultural College at Dahlonega, best accredited military college of the state. His record there was brilliant in both directions. Winner of the Frank P. Rice Medal for Latin scholarship, he was senior captain of the cadet battalion, and graduated in 1888 with first honors.

For a time thereafter he studied law, under Col. E. W. Hammond, of Griffin, but it was the born teacher in him that called him to accept an invitation in 1889 to be an instructor and commandant of cadets at the little college in Gainesville, Georgia. After one term there, however, he resigned for a better post in Jackson Institute at Jackson, Georgia. A year later he accepted the Vice-Presidency of Gordon Institute at Barnesville, Georgia, and, after much effort and against opposition in some quarters organized a volunteer corps of cadets. The corps doubled in size within the year and at its second commencement turned out 120 men for parade with a full cadet band of 13 pieces. And through his efforts and representations the Institute was assigned an officer of the regular United States Army to act as commandant.

Mr. Woodward became President of Middle Georgia Military and Agricultural College at Milledgeville in 1892. For nearly two years after assuming the presidency he held the position, too, of commandant of cadets, until his efforts again won the interest of the War Department at Washington and the college was assigned an United States Army officer as commandant.

Resigning his post at Georgia Military College in 1896, he entered the University of Chicago as a candidate for an AB degree. Specializing in philosophy and education, he received his degree in 1898 and at once accepted a post as Superintendent of Schools at Newnan, Georgia. While at Newnan, he became the prime mover in organizing the Georgia Teachers Association and made history with a resolution calling upon the trustees of the University of Georgia to open the university's doors to men and woman alike for summer training.

In 1900, Mr. Woodward was invited to meet a group of the leading men of College Park, Georgia, at the home of Mr. Woods White to discuss the establishment of a military school for younger men. From this meeting Georgia Military Academy was born on a tract of fifteen acres around a dilapidated but distinguished-looking old brick building.

From 42 students on opening day, only 20 boarders, the student body grew to 150 boarding students in 1903. In 1907, Dr. W. B. Hamby made a voluntary loan to Colonel Woodward with which a Gymnasium Building was erected to house about 40 boys and provide a space for chapel exercises, basketball games, and school dances.

The Academy was incorporated in 1908. In 1932 Colonel Woodward purchased the outstanding stock of the organization and deeded Georgia Military Academy to a self-perpetuating Board of Governors.

In 1914 Colonel Woodward became the first president of the Association of Military Colleges and Schools which he was instrumental in organizing. At the same time he managed to stimulate interest in national legislation making the R.O.T.C. an integral part of the nation's military establishment - an achievement acknowledged by the Association with a bronze plaque presented to him in appreciation.

When death came to John Charles Woodward in 1939 his monument was already set in brick and stone, in generations of young men led forth, in a noble tradition lifted, a great name established. The Georgia Military Academy he left behind him, the one that had been only a patch of weeds and ancient brick, stood proud upon 32 acres of level campus, with 18 modern buildings, an experienced faculty of 25 - and, point of it all, the cadet corps! Four hundred boys who would some day be men and whose progress to that manhood was being guilded in manhood's best ideal, whose bodies, minds and hearts were being led forth for the longer marches of life, whose souls were being told of things not made to die. The cadet corps of Georgia Military Academy! The spirit of John Charles Woodward salutes it each year as it passes, surely.

DAVID OBIE WOODWARD (1885-1957) - JACKSON PROGRESS-ARGUS, Jackson, Georgia, April 4, 1957 - David Obe Woodward, 71, Mayor of Jenkinsburg and retired building contractor and farmer, died Tuesday evening (April 3) at an Atlanta hospital. Funeral services are to be held Thursday afternoon at the Jenkinsburg Methodist Church with the Rev. W. H. Lewis of Stockbridge and Rev. Don Welch officiating. Interment will be in the Jenkinsburg Cemetery with Haisten Funeral Home in charge.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and had served on the Board of Stewards of the Jenkinsburg Methodist Church for over 40 years.

He was elected last fall as Mayor of Jenkinsburg. His son, Bailey Woodward, was elected to the Georgia Senate in the same year.

WILL OF DAVID COX

The original is at the Bardstown, Kentucky, Courthouse.

I, David Cox, of Nelson Co., and Commonwealth of Ky., being in good health of body and of sound and disposing mind and memory and being desirous to settle my worldly affairs whilst I have strength and capacity so to do, do make and publish this my last will and testament hereby revoking and making void all wills by me at any time heretofore made.

I first give and bequeath to my loving wife Susannah Cox one bedstead and furniture, two chests, one iron kettle, one horse saddle and bridle also a negro woman named Easter during her natural life, after which Easter is to be free.

I give to my sons James, David, Isaac, and Jonathan and daughters Jane McDonald and Margaret McMahon the sum of five shillings each; they having been heretofore provided for.

The tract of land whereon I now reside supposed to contain one hundred and sixty acres I give to my sons Gabriel and George to be equally divided between them. The remaining part of my estate of every description not herein before devised I give to George Cox. I hereby constitute and appoint my son James Cox executor of this my last will and testament. In witness whereof I, the said David Cox have to this my last will and testament this, fourteenth day of Feb. 1818.

DAVID COX (Seal)

Attest D. H. Cox, V. Hobbs, John Ricks, Jr.

Proven on Monday the 18th of Dec. 1820.

JAMES COX (1769-1846) - KENTUCKY STANDARD, Bardstown, Kentucky - Isaac and James Cox were the first magistrates of the county (Nelson) and assisted in driving back the Indians. They surveyed the roads and established trading stations.

General James Cox was one of the Committee appointed to superintend the erection of the first Courthouse and jail for Nelson County. He commanded the pioneer troops in their engagements with the Indians, and was emissary from the new county to Patrick Henry, Governor of Virginia, asking that the County of Nelson district of Kentucky be established.

ORION NEAL COX (1829-1903) - KENTUCKY STANDARD, Bardstown, Kentucky - Dr. O. N. Cox was a son of Dr. David H. Cox, and a grandson of General James Cox, a pioneer of Virginia who resided in Nelson County in 1774 and in honor of whom Cox's Creek was named. Dr. Cox was born August 9, 1829. He graduated in medicine from the University of Louisville in 1850 after attending Hanover College in Indiana. In 1856 he married Matilda Coke, daughter of Col. Woodson Coke of what is now known as the Murray's Run neighborhood. To them seven children were born. (Five of the seven children survived him): Mrs. Myra McKay, and Dr. Howard Cox of Cox's Creek; Dr. S. A. Cox, Hugh R. Cox, and Mrs. J. Tyler Davis of Bardstown. He is also survived by one brother and one sister: Dr. James C. Cox, of Humbolt, Nebraska, and Mrs. W. P. Barnes, of Owensboro.

Dr. Orion Cox, in addition to being the son of a pioneer physician, had three brothers who followed the same profession. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

AGUSTUS KAVANAUGH COX (1821-1909) - KENTUCKY STANDARD, Bardstown, Kentucky, February 18, 1909 - Doctor Augustus Kavanaugh Cox peacefully passed away at his old home in the county this morning, aged eighty-two years. Dr. Cox was one of the oldest Physicians in the county, having retired from practice many years since. He was eminent in his profession. For a number of years he devoted his talents and energies to the cause of the Methodist ministry.

The funeral will be held at the home, on Friday afternoon, Rev. R. H. Roe, officiating.

GREENE LINE

REF.:- Papers from Mrs. William B. Smith
(30) of Decatur, Georgia.

The Greene family was a branch of the de la Zouche family of whom Gibbon, the historian, said that they had the most royal blood and the most strain of royal blood in all Europe. The Greens at one time were the largest land owners in all England. They were over fifty times descent of Charlemagne, (known as Charles the Great, King of the Franks and Emperor of the West), the greatest man of a thousand years.

There were a dozen descents from Alfred the Great* and fifty from Wittekind. They had the blood of Irish, Scotch, Saxon, English, and Bohemian Kings; they came from ancient Parthian Emperors long before Christ; regular heathens; Russian rulers; French Kings; Constantine the Great; and Basil the Great, the Byzantine Emperor. Through the Royal Welsh line they claimed a double infusion of Jewish blood - one line from Aaron, the first High Priest; the other from King David. Queen Victoria of the same blood firmly believed this. A dozen titular saints, a dozen signers of the Magna Charta, and over thirty crusaders were in this descent.

Alexander, a younger son of de la Zouche, was given an estate and title as a "Great Baron" by King John of England in 1202. The estate was that of de Greene de Boketon. His son, Walter de Boketon, was in the Seventh Crusade in 1244. Walter's son, John, died in the next crusade in 1271 leaving a year old son, Thomas, who became Sir Thomas de Greene. Then came Thomas de Greene (No. 13) who married Lady Lucy de la Zouche, his relative.

Wittekind's line of descent is as follows: Wittekind, the German hero whom Charlemagne conquered and converted to Christianity, who married the Princess Geva. Robert the Strong, the grandson of Wittekind and Geva, who married Adelaide, the daughter of Emperor Louis le Debonnaire and granddaughter of Charlemagne. Then came Hugh, the King maker of France, and his son Hugh Capet followed by King Robert I and King Henry I of France, and through their wives from Emperors of Germany, Czars of Russia, Emperors of Byzantine, the early Saxon Kings, and William the Conqueror. Then eight generations more with the Royal Welsh, Spanish, Irish, and Scotch hiers in their veins to Lady de la Zouche (No. 13) who married her relative Thomas de Greene.

They remained in the royal line for several hundred years. Saher de Quincey, Earl of Winchester and one of the Magna Charta Barons, wrested the Great Charter from King John on the field of Runnymede in June of 1215.

*Alfred (Aelfred) the Great was the King of the Anglo-Saxon Kingdom known as Wessex from 871 until 901. The royal House of Wessex claims descent from the heathen God Woden. Students of genealogy agree that the line may be correct as far back as Cerdic who died in 534.

Aaron was the elder brother of Moses. He died in the 123rd year of his age and the high-priesthood descended to his third son, Eleazar.

The name Greene was originally written de Greene. It appears that the Greenes assumed their name from an illusion to their principal and beloved manor which was Buckton, Town of Bucks, in the County of Northampton, England. The place was known for the excellency of its soil, its situation, and its spacious and delightful green. From Buckton, they assumed three Bucks for their arms. They were Lords of the manor and owned many stately castles.

In Edward III's reign (1327-1377), Sir Henry Greene obtained for himself and his heirs the grant of a fair to be held yearly for three days beginning on the vigil of St. John the Baptist. Since that time down to the middle of the nineteenth century this fair was held up on the spacious green which gave name to the Greene Family.

In the reign of Henry V (1413-1422), Sir Thomas Greene was warden of Whittlebury Forest, an office which he "held in capite of the King by service of lifting up his hand towards the King yearly on Christmas Day in what place so-ever the King is".

Sir Henry de Greene was the Lord Chief Justice of England, and the ancestor of six Sir Thomas's who succeeded one another on the estate of Northampton without interruption. The last one died (1506) leaving a daughter, Mathilda or Maude, who married Sir Thomas Parr. Katherine Parr, the daughter of Sir Thomas Parr and Mathilda or Maude, was the sixth and last Queen of Henry VIII (1509-1547). At her death the estate passed to the Crown, but was restored to the Greenes in 1550 by a grant from Edward VI (1547-1553) who gave it to his uncle, Katherine Parr's brother, Sir Thomas Parr, who was a Knight of the Garter.

Robert Greene, gentleman of Bowridge Hill, Gillingham, England, was taxed on the subsidy rolls of Henry VIII in 1547 and those of Elizabeth in 1558.

The family name (Greene) is derived, says Somerby, from possessions held in Northamptonshire as early as the times of King Edward I. In 1320 Sir Thomas de Greene, Lord of Broughton, or Boughton, and Norton, later Greene's Norton, succeeded to the estate. His son, Sir Henry de Greene, Lord of Greene's Norton, was Lord Chief Justice in 1353. The tomb of the latter which remains perfect, is ornamented with many shields showing different houses with which he was connected, and conspicuous among them is the coat of arms of his own family.

The mother of Sir Thomas de Greene, (Lady Lucy de la Zouche), was a direct descendent of Henry I of France; of Saher, or Saer, de Quincey, Earl of Winchester, one of the twenty-five barons who extorted the Magna Charta from King John; and also of Alfred the Great of England. JOHN GREENE (1590-1659)

REF.: COLONIAL FAMILIES OF AMERICA by
McKenzie. Vols. 1 and 2, Pages
209 and 198.

Paper arranged by Miss Mary E. Lathrop, assisted by Mrs. Henry Waterman, Central Falls, R. I., and Miss Mary A. Greene,
Providence, R. I.

John Greene, the pioneer in this country, the fourth son of Richard Greene of Bowridge Hill, Gillingham, Dorsetshire, and Mary Hooker, was born in 1590. He was a surgeon of Salisbury, County of Wilkes, England. He married Joanna Tattershall in 1619.

With his wife and children, John Greene sailed from Southampton on April 16, 1635 on the ship JAMES and landed in Boston on June 3, 1635. They settled in Salem but were driven out by religious persecutions, and soon after went to Providence. Here he was one of the twelve to whom Roger Williams conveyed land in his initial deed (so called because the men are mentioned only by their initials), and one of the twelve original members of the first Baptist Church in Providence. He was of the party who with Samuel Gorton purchased Shawomet, later called Warwick, from the Indians. His is the only name of a white man signed as a witness to the deed. His own plot, called Occupassnatuxet, more commonly known as Pastuxet, remained in the family until 1782, when it was bought by Gov. John Francis, whose heirs are still in possession.

In August, 1637, he was accused of having spoken contemptuously against magistrates and stood "bound in a 100 marks to appear at the next Quarter Court", by order of the Massachusetts authorities.

In September following, for the same offense, he was fined $20.00 and was to be committed until the fine was paid, and enjoined not to come into the jurisdiction of Massachusetts upon pain of fine or imprisonment at the pleasure of the court. A few months later the same court of Massachusetts received a letter from Greene with which he charged the court with usurping the power of Christ over churches and men's consciences. The court again ordered him not to come into their jurisdiction under pain of imprisonment and further censure.

In 1643 came the summons to the Warwick men to appear in Boston to answer to the complaints of Pomham and Soconoco, "as to some unjust and injurious dealing toward them by yourself". Then soldiers were sent to bring them by force to Boston, after the accused refused to go, declaring they were legal subjects of the King of England, and beyond the limits of Massachusetts authority. On their arrival, there was a parley during which the officers declared that the Warwick settlers "held blasphemous errors of which they must repent" or go to Boston for trial. Greene escaped capture but was banished like the rest.

After Joanne's death in 1643, John Greene returned to England and remarried. Three years later, however, when he and Gorton returned from England, he had the satisfaction of landing, justified by the King in Boston.

Like others of this company of Shawomet settlers, Greene held responsible positions under the charter and was magistrate, assistant member of the town council, representative in the assembly, and commissioner from 1654 to 1657.

John Greene died in Warwick in January of 1659.

PHILIP GREENE (1705-1791)

Philip Greene was associate Justice of the Court of Common Pleas of Kent County, R. I., from 1759 to 1776, and Chief Justice of the same court all through the Revolutionary period from 1776 to 1784. He also gave liberally of supplies and money for the maintainance of the Army during the Revolution.

In 1768, he was moderator at a meeting (at which time) a committee was appointed to draft resolutions adverse to the import of goods from England and favorable to the speedy development of domestic manufacturers.

Judge Philip Greene is said, by those who remain, "to have had a figure noble and imposing, a voice loud but pleasant and an address God Humoring, but commanding". At the head of a stormy popular assemblage, when men of honest hearts but of weak nerves would falter and fail, he shown preeminently, his voice rose like the swell of an organ, echoing from the souls of the most timid and rousing the brave to the deed of surpassing valor. In the Revolutionary struggle, when the councils of the town, Warwick, R. I., were perplexed sometimes with overcautious advisers, his tones of indignation and scorn would scatter at once all doubt and fear.

He was less anxious to augment his extensive property than some of his predecessors. He was the master, but not the servant of his wealth, and preferred the esteem of his friends rather than gold, and valued the approval of his conscience more than either. Yet no one had the curiosity to write down the free-flowing conversation of Philip Greene, upon these interesting topics. (His life by tradition or experience had compassed the whole history of the infant colony until it developed into the statue of a perfect state). Such a transcript of his mind would have opened a pathway to the front of Rhode Island History; we should then have known how our ancestors talked at the fireside as well as in public debate. LETTERS FROM THE PAWTUXET by Henry Rousmanier.

Elizabeth Wickes, wife of Judge Philip Greene, is said to have been a woman of superior intellect.

WILL OF SAMUEL BROWN

IN THE NAME OF GOD AMEN:

I, Samuel Brown of the State of North Carolina and County of Jones being at the time weak in body but of sound mind and disposing memory and calling to mind the mortality of the body and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this my last will and Testament in manner and form following, To Wit: First of all I recommend my soul to God who gave it to me, and my body to be buried in a plain Christian like manner at the descretion of my executors, and as touching such worldly goods as it has pleased the Almighty to endow me with. I will and dispose of it in the following manner, (to-wit):

First - I give and bequeath to my son, Hardy, a black mare called Gin, and Twenty- five Dollars in cash to be paid out of my estate by my Executors to him his heirs and assigns forever.

Item - I give and bequeath to my son, Stephen, all my right, title and interest in the Land and Plantation on which I now live, to him, his heirs and assigns forever.

Item - My will is that all the residue of my property not otherwise disposed of, be sold and the money arising from such sale be divided between my wife and all my children.

Item - Last of all, I nominate and appoint my wife and my son, William, my Executors to this my last will and testament.

In witness I hereunto set my hand and affix my seal, this fourth day of September in the year of our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Thirteen.

SAMUEL BROWN (SEAL)

Signed and sealed
in presence of us.

CHRISTOPHER BRYAN
HARDY BROWN

NORTH CAROLINA

The last Will and Testament of Samuel Brown, deceased, was duly proved in open court by the oath of Christopher Bryan witness thereto and ordered that the same be recorded, at same time the widow of said deceased qualified as Executrix, and it was ordered that letters Testamentary issue accordingly.

WILL OF DEMPSEY WILLIAMS BROWN

In the name of God Amen.

I, Dempsey Brown of the State of Georgia and County of Houston being in good health and of sound mind and memory taking into consideration the frailty of human nature and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, and wishing to dispose of by will what earthly property it has pleased God in this world to bless me to make ordain promulgate and establish this my last will and testament.

Item 1. My Soul I trustfully commit to God who gave it and my body to the dust from whence it came, hoping and not doubting that my family and friends will give it a decent burial in my family burying ground.

Item 2. As soon after my death as it can well be done I wish my executors to pay all of just debts and out of the effects of my estate that will in their judgment do it the least possible injury.

Item 3. I give and bequeath to my beloved wife, Sarah A. F. Brown (second wife), to have and to hold forever the following property - to wit: Lovet, a negro man; Sam, a negro man; Lucinda, a negro woman; Matilda, a negro woman, and her three children, Emma, Laura, and her infant; Ellen, a negro woman; Betsy, a negro woman; and Nancy, a negro girl; and their increase which said negro slaves I acquired by my marriage to my said wife - and my house and lot in the Town of Perry in said County and which house and lot I also acquired by my said marriage - and my horses and carriage - all the household and kitchen furniture that I acquired by my marriage to my said wife - and also Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.) in cash - all of which said property and cash I give to my said wife in lieu of and in the place of the dower in and to all the lands I may own at the time of my death.

Item 4. I wish to make all my children perfectly equal in my estate. I have made advancement to all my married children, to wit: Mrs. Jos. Wimberly, Mrs. Dr. Bryan, Mrs. John R. Wimberly, Mrs. Felder, Mrs. Thos. F. Walker, and my son, John G. Brown - and to make my unmarried children equal with those that have married. I give and bequeath to my beloved daughter, Matilda Caroline Brown, and my beloved son, Henry Clay Brown, each - four Negro slaves each - and equal in value to those that I have advanced to my married children - each, One Thousand Dollars in cash, each a good horse or mule and each a bed, bedstead, and furniture - such as my other children have had.

Item 5. My will and desire is that for some two, three, or four years after my death that my Executors hereinafter named may if they think best and for the interest of my estate - with my property not herein disposed of - keep up and carry on my plantation and farms as they are now kept up and carried on for the purpose of paying any debts and the pecuniary requests made in this my last will and testament and at the end of four and not more than four or five years after my death or at a less time than that if they choose and think best I wish all my perishable property and all the lands I may then own to be sold to the best possible advantage in suitable lots and to the highest bidder and on such terms as they may think best and the proceeds of sale after paying what legacies and debts as may then yet be due and unpaid I wish to be equally divided between all my beloved children and my beloved grandchild, E. D. Felder, son of H. B. Felder.

Item 6. When my Executors herein after named shall sell my lands and perishable property as directed in the fifth and last item in my will then and not until then I wish all the negroes I may own at the time of my death and their increase not herein before given away to be equally divided among all my beloved children and my said grandson, E. D. Felder, as well as all moneys that may be then due to or belonging to my estate, and if my said grandson, E. D. Felder, should depart this life leaving no wife or child or children then surviving him then the money and negroes and everything herein given to him I wish to return and become a part of my estate to be equally divided between my children - all share and share alike.

Item 7. I do hereby nominate constitute and appoint my respected son-in-law, H. B. Felder, the guardian of my said grandson, E. D. Felder, to manage and control the money and property herein given to my said grandson.

Item 8. It is my will and desire my Executors must provide well out of my estate for the comfortable support and maintenance of my aged sister, Elizabeth Brown.

Item 9. I do hereby nominate constitute and appoint my son, John Greene Brown, and my sons-in-law, Joseph W. Wimberly and Dr. Robert C. Bryan, the Executors of this my last will and testament.

In witness whereof I have hereto set my hand and Seal. This July 31st, 1862.

Dempsey Brown (SEAL)

The foregoing last will and testament of Dempsey Brown signed and Sealed by him freely and voluntarily and when he was of sound mind and discretion - and in the presence of each of us - and, which we subscribed as witnesses at his request in the presence and in the presence of each other, this 31st of July 1862.

ELIZA (LIDA) MARGARET LACKEY FELDER (1903-1948) - EARLY COUNTY NEWS, Blakely, Georgia, March 18, 1948 - The hearts of many friends were saddened when the news was learned here that Mrs. Lida Lackey Felder, wife of I. Derrell Felder, had died Thursday morning (March 11) in Atlanta, where the family resided. She had been ill for six weeks. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon in the Blakely Baptist Church, with the pastor, the Rev. W. E. Storey, and Dr. W. V. Bibble, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in the city cemetery.

Mrs. Felder was a native of Brandon, Miss., where she was born Aug. 20, 1903, a daughter of Mrs. S. E. Lackey, Sr., and the late Mr. Lackey. She was a graduate of Millsaps College, Jackson, Miss. She was a member of the Inman Park Baptist Church in Atlanta.

FRANK AUGUSTUS GRAHAM (1894-1956) - ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Georgia, February 25, 1956 - DAWSON, Ga., Feb. 24 - Frank Augustus Graham, 61, long time leader in the Southwest Georgia cotton and peanut industries, died today in Patterson Hospital at nearby Cuthbert. Funeral services will be held in Fort Gaines Methodist Church Saturday. The Rev. David A. Duck, pastor of the Dawson Methodist Church, will conduct the services, assisted by the Rev. C. A. Abbott, pastor of the Fort Gaines Methodist Church. Burial will be in Fort Gaines Cemetery.

Mr. Graham was the son of James E. Graham and Annie Scott Sharpe Graham. He was born in Fort Gaines on Oct. 3, 1894. He came to Dawson in May, 1945, as manager of the Southern Cotton Oil Co. here. He was manager of the Fort Gaines plant for the same company from 1927 to 1945. He was a past president of the Georgia Cotton Seed Crushers Association. He was a director of the Bank of Terrell, past president of the Dawson Rotary Club, a Mason, and a member and steward of the Dawson Methodist Church.

JAMES GUERRY BISHOP, JR. (1915-) - Taken from a newspaper clipping, San Diego, California, July 16, 1954 - In Change of Command ceremonies held last Friday afternoon (July 9), Col. James G. Bishop took command of the Communications-Electronics Schools Battalion. Col. Bishop just recently returned from Korea where he served with the First Marine Division as Division Communications-Electronics Officer. Entering the Marine Corps in 1936, immediately after his graduation from Georgia Tech, Col. Bishop attended the Marine Basic School in Philadelphia where he earned a commission as Second Lieutenant. In 1943, he organized the first Joint Assault Signal Company, which operated with the 4th Division in the assault of Roy-Namur, Kwajelien.

RICHARD ANDERSON STRATFORD, JR. (1921-) - Richard Anderson Stratford, Jr., was born December 29, 1921 in Moultrie, Georgia, to Richard Anderson Stratford and Margaret Polhill Stratford (Omohundro). He went into the employ of the United States Government as an instructor on Oct. 15, 1942. He worked through the Southern Airways of Atlanta, Georgia, which in turn had a contract with the Government to train pilots. He went later to Calcutta, India, from which city he was employed by the China National Aviation Corporation from June, 1943, until September 30, 1947. During the war, Captain Stratford flew 301 round trips across the "Hump" from Northern India to Western China with vital war supplies. After October, 1945, he served in the capacity of an airline pilot with CNAC. While serving with CNAC during World War II, Captain Stratford wore an officer's uniform and was under army rules and regulations.

HUBERT RUTHERFORD BROWN (1876-1956) - ATLANTA CONSTITUTION and ATLANTA JOURNAL, Atlanta, Georgia, March 21 and 22, 1956 - H. Rutherford Brown, 79, died Tuesday afternoon (March 20) at his home in Decatur. Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at Spring Hill, Dr. John Jeter Hurt officiating. Interment will be in Hawkinsville, Georgia.

A native of Hayneville, near Hawkinsville, he had lived in Decatur for 41 years. He was a member of the Baptist Church. Before his retirement two years ago he was employed many years by the Harris Auto Supply Company.

DONALD MADISON HASTINGS (1901-) - Donald Madison Hastings was born April 7, 1901 in Atlanta, Georgia, to Harry George Hastings and Pearl Freeborn Hastings. He attended public schools and the Donald Fraser School in Decatur, Georgia, and Tech High School in Atlanta. In 1918, he graduated from the Georgia Military College at Milledgeville. He graduated from the University of Georgia in 1922 with a BS degree in Agriculture. While at the University, he was Vice-President of the Senior Class and Vice-President of the Student Council.

4. Joseph Tooke, Sr.*, of Craven County, North Carolina, born about 1753 and died in 1806. He was a Revolutionary War soldier (Mrs. Mary Jane Fenn Teate, Cordele, Georgia, has joined the D.A.R. on his record of service). All evidence shows that he was a close relative, apparently a son of
5. John Tooke, Sr., of Northampton County, N. C.; given land in that County in will of his father below. Another son was John Tooke, Jr., of same County and Mary Burt, his wife, who were parents of some seven Tooke brothers and a sister, who went with the two sons and daughter of Joseph Tooke, Sr. (above), to Pulaski, Houston, Macon, Greene, and other Georgia Counties about 1800. These two Tooke families had the same given names and were intimately associated in Georgia. This elder John Tooke was the son of
6. John Tooke, of Brunswick County, Virginia, who in a will there dated 1751 left plantations and negroes to sons John (above), Dempsey, and Joseph, and one daughter. This John Tooke was the son of
7. John Tooke, of "ye Lower Parish of Surry County", Virginia, left a will dated 1720 in which he gave plantations and negroes to son John (above) and grandson Joseph, whose father was then deceased. This John Tooke was the son of
8. William Tooke, of Surry County, Virginia, left a "nuncupative" will in 1675, named wife Jane, son John (above), daughter Rebecca. Died young. William Tooke was the son of
9. James Tooke, in a will proven 1662, Isle of Wight County, Virginia, left land and signet ring to son Thomas, named son William (above) and daughter, Dorothy, who married John Harvey, Governor of North Carolina, 1678-9. He was a Burgess for Isle of Wight County. He came to Virginia on the ship "George" in 1621 or 1637 (the records differ) and was a prominent Quaker. James Tooke was apparently a son of

10. James Tooke and his wife, Dorothy, daughter of John Gray of Gray's Inn (Law Temple), London. James Tooke was auditor of the Court of Wards and Liveries. Pedigrees of this family show that they had twenty children, that their second son was named James, apparently the James above. The eldest son was named John, and a John Tooke of Herts (seat of this family) was captain of a ship that made the voyage to Virginia shortly after James Tooke arrived there. James Tooke's tomb and that of his father and mother are in the church at Essenden, county Herts, England. James Tooke was the son of
11. William Tooke, of Popes, Co. Herts; died 1611. His wife, Mary Tichborne, daughter of Nicholas Tichborne of Royden, Co. Essex, no doubt of the Tichbornes of Co. Hants, a very old Catholic family. William Tooke was the son of
12. William Tooke, of Essenden, Co. Herts. He was an auditor of Wards and Liveries. He married Alice Barley, daughter of Robert Barley of Bibbleworth Hall, Co. Herts. He died in 1588. William Tooke was the son of
13. Ralph Tooke or Toke, of Codinton, Co. Kent. Ralph Tooke or Toke was the son of 14. Walter Toke and his wife, Mary Stanhope. Walter Toke was the son of 15. Ralph Toke and Jane Haute. Ralph Toke was the son of
16. John Toke of West Cliff. He was a member of Parliament under Henry V. He married Joyce Hoo, niece of Lord Hoo and Hastings. John Toke was the son of
17. John Toke and Elizabeth Mailmains, who was eighth in descent from Robert de Toke, who was at the battle of Northampton with Henry III, 1264.
- 17 (1). Louise Tooke married Algenon H. Daniel of Grovania, Georgia. To this union was born six children: Moreland Daniel, Augustus Daniel, Bettie Mae Daniel Brown, Mike Johnston Daniel, Troup Daniel, and Dozier Daniel.
18. BETTIE MAE DANIEL, born May 6, 1876 in Waco, Texas, married HUBERT RUTHERFORD BROWN*, born June 2, 1876 in Hayneville, Georgia - died March 20, 1956 in Decatur, Georgia, on October 26, 1898.

NOTE: Algenon H. Daniel was born in Greene County, Georgia, on January 1, 1834 and died in Houston County, Georgia, on February 8, 1917.

- 17 (1). Laura Imogene Tooke, born August 26, 1844 - died April 25, 1905, married Christopher B. Cowen Anderson*, born January 7, 1842 - died August 6, 1925, on December 13, 1865. Ten children were born to this union: Charles Eugene Anderson; Laura Lela Anderson Key; William Thomas Anderson; Peyton Tooke Anderson; Cowen T. Anderson, born October 10, 1876 - died at the age of 2 years; Marie Louise Anderson Gibson; Alma Vesta Anderson Massey; Christopher C. Anderson, born January 7, 1883 - died at birth; Julia Mason Anderson Northrop; and Myrta Catherine Anderson Massey.
18. Charles Eugene Anderson, born November 23, 1866, married Nina Warren on February 20, 1895. Children: Martha Munford Anderson Hillsman, Eugenia Anderson York; and Lela Anderson.

Charles Eugene Anderson's second wife, who he married on January 21, 1918, was Mrs. Annie Speer Burr.

Charles Eugene Anderson's third wife, who he married on November 29, 1941, was Mrs. Sarah Allen Phinazee.
19. Martha Munford Anderson married Myrick Hillsman. Children: Nina Warren Hillsman, and Myrick Hillsman, Jr.

Martha Munford Anderson Hillsman's second marriage was to Harrold Shipps.
19. Eugenia Anderson married Carl York. Children: Carl York, Jr.; and Julia York.
18. Laura Lela Anderson, born October 29, 1869, married Dr. Thomas James Key of Quitman, Georgia, on January 3, 1893. Children: Laura T. Key MacDonell, and Homer Anderson Key.
19. Laura T. Key married Alan MacDonell. Child: Jean MacDonell Bush.
20. Jean MacDonell married Dr. Holloway Bush.
19. Homer Anderson Key married Marjorie Gougel. Children: Homer Anderson Key, Jr.; Marjorie Key Lawrence; and Alan MacDonell Key.
20. Marjorie Key married Tom Lawrence.
18. William Thomas Anderson, born August 21, 1871 - died November 23, 1945, married Elizabeth Griswold Anderson, his cousin, on June 22, 1898.

*Christopher B. Cowen Anderson graduated from Penfield University, receiving his MA degree at the 36th Commencement of Mercer University, Macon, Georgia, after his return from Confederate Service in the War Between The States. His professions were: teacher, Civil Engineer, and State (Georgia) Geologist.

18. Peyton Tooke Anderson, born December 22, 1873 - died February 8, 1944, married Nellie Brown Griswold on March 26, 1906. Children: Peyton Tooke Anderson, Jr.; and Laura Nelle Anderson O'Callaghan.
19. Peyton Tooke Anderson, Jr., married Katherine McClure. Children: Katherine Anderson, and Deyerle Anderson.
19. Laura Nelle Anderson married Dan O'Callaghan. Child: Dennis Naniel (Dennie) O'Callaghan.
18. Marie Louise Anderson, born May 2, 1879, married Harry Aurelius Gibson on September 28, 1922.
18. Alma Vesta Anderson, born December 23, 1881, married Orren Webb Massey on December 4, 1907.
18. Julia Mason Anderson, born August 4, 1884, married William Noble Northrop on July 18, 1912.
18. Myrta Catherine Anderson, born May 1, 1888, married Walter Mettauwer Massey on February 18, 1914. Children: Walter Mettauwer Massey, Jr.; and Joseph Tooke Massey.
19. Walter Mettauwer Massey, Jr., married Elaine Pridgen. Children: Walter Mettauwer Massey, III; and Elaine Massey.
19. Joseph Tooke Massey married Turea May. Children: Joseph Tooke Massey, Jr.; and Peyton Edmund Massey.

WILL OF JOSEPH TOOKE

Joseph Tooke, of Craven County, North Carolina, give and bequeath unto my son William Tooke all property before given in his possession when he removed from this state into the State of Georgia. THE RUTHERFORD FAMILY

REF.: - Taken from paper compiled by
Mrs. Agatha Abney Woodson,
Edgefield, South Carolina

The family name of Rutherford from Scotland are descended from Rutherford of Teviotsdale and were entitled to use the Rutherford Coat of Arms.

In the year of 1689, several brothers of the Scotch family of Rutherford joined the army of William III, when he invaded Ireland. They fought in the battle of Boyne. Two of the brothers were company officers and the third was a Presbyterian Minister. They all remained in Ireland, settled there and married - one settling in the County of Tyrone, one in Down, and one in Managhan. Several of the sons of these men emigrated to America during the decade between 1720 and 1730, settling in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia.

- I. Sir John Rutherford* of Teviotsdale, Scotland, later of Ireland, was the father of several sons who emigrated to the United States. He married Elizabeth Corncross of Caincross, and from him descended the American branch of the family, some of whom settled in New York and New Jersey. One of the sons was Thomas Rutherford.
- II. Thomas Rutherford, son of Sir John Rutherford, ill pleased with New Jersey, started further southward. While on this journey, on the Nottoway River in Virginia, his son, Col. Robert Rutherford, was born (April, 1734). In after years, Thomas, still of a restless disposition, moved further south and settled in North Carolina, where he was intimately concerned with the political movements of the colony, as well as other members of his family. Thomas was a member of the Assembly under Royal Government from Cumberland County, North Carolina. For a while he appeared to side with the Whigs. In 1774, he was elected to the Provincial Congress. In 1775, he was a member of the Whig Convention which Governor Martin denounced. In the military organization of the state, he was commissioned a colonel but as he joined the adherents to the crown in 1776, Col. McAlester displaced him. His property was confiscated in 1779 in North Carolina and after the Revolutionary War in Georgia he moved to Winchester, Virginia, where it is said he had a brother living. There he died and is buried.

*Sir John Rutherford was descended from James Rutherford who married Lady Margaret Erskine, a lineal descendent of Charlemagne through the Duchess of Lorraine.

One member of the family, John Rutherford, was a member of his Majesty's Council of North Carolina. On March 1, 1775, he was present in council and advised Governor Martin to issue his proclamation to inhibit and forbid Whigs to meet in Newberne (Wheeler's History of N.C.). He was a Lieutenant General of his Majesty's Forces and said to have been killed during the Revolution.

A brother of John Rutherford (above), named James, came down to North Carolina, but the only record concerning him is that his property was confiscated during the Revolution in 1777.

- III. Col. Robert Rutherford (1734 - 1814) married first, Dorothy Ann Brooks, who was the mother of all of his children; then he married Mrs. Frances Harrington, the mother of Y. J. Harrington who survived him. In Colonial days, he moved to Chatham County, North Carolina. He was a member of the first Provincial Congress which met at Hillsboro, North Carolina. He was a Colonel of the County of Chatham under the committee of safety during the Revolutionary War. He moved to South Carolina in 1780 and here he assisted in establishing the County Court System and was made Judge of the Court, the first session being held in his own house in Newberry (Colonial Records of North Carolina; Wheeler's History of North Carolina, page 84, and O'Nealls' Annals of Newberry, page 212). Col. Robert Rutherford's issue were: John, Elizabeth, Mary, Joanna, Sarah, Thomas Brooks, William, and Robert, Jr. John Rutherford, son of Col. Robert Rutherford, administered on the estate of his father in 1814.
- IV. John Rutherford, son of Col. Robert Rutherford, was born in 1760 and died in 1833. John Rutherford was a gallant soldier and officer during the Revolutionary War, being a Lieutenant Colonel. He married Polly Hubert. He is buried three miles west of Sandersville, Georgia, on the Milledgeville road. His grave is marked by the D.A.R.
- V. Benjamin Hubert Rutherford was born in 1782 and died in 1850. He was a son of John Rutherford (above).
- VI. John Hubert Rutherford, son of Benjamin Hubert Rutherford, was born in 1818 and died in 1901. John Hubert Rutherford's first wife was a Miss Crawford. Their issue: one son, Dr. Eugene Crawford Rutherford who died in New Orleans, Louisiana. John Hubert Rutherford's second wife was Mary Anderson, born November 15, 1850 and died in Hayneville, Georgia, on August 28, 1868. Their issue were: Cora Epsey Rutherford (June 21, 1850 - February 4, 1926) and Lucia Rutherford who was born on September 9, 1865. The third wife of John Hubert Rutherford was Pauline Pinkard who died in 1924. There were no children by his third wife.

- VII. Cora Epsey Rutherford, daughter of John Hubert Rutherford and Mary Anderson, was born on June 21, 1850 and died on February 4, 1926. She is buried in Hawkinsville, Georgia. Cora Epsey Rutherford married John Greene Brown* (September 14, 1831 - January 6, 1907) in December of 1871.

- IV. Elizabeth Rutherford, daughter of Col. Robert Rutherford, married Major Frederick Nance who was a Lieutenant Governor of South Carolina. From this couple descend the large family of Wallaces, Dunlaps, Baxters, and Sheppards, all very prominent in the history of South Carolina.

- IV. Mary Rutherford, daughter of Col. Robert Rutherford, married a Mr. Mathis.

- IV. Joanna Rutherford, daughter of Col. Robert Rutherford, married Colonel John Morgan Minter of North Carolina who was Colonel of Militia in North Carolina. Col. Minter moved to Georgia and the descendents of this line are the family to which Honorable Minter Wimberly of Savannah, Georgia, belongs and other Minters in Georgia - Mrs. Orme Campbell of Atlanta, Georgia, and Miss Rose Weaver of Selma, Alabama.

- IV. Sarah Rutherford, daughter of Col. Robert Rutherford, married Christopher Hardy who, according to some members of the family, was killed at Hays Station during the Revolutionary War. (This could not have been the same man who was killed at Hays Station if the family did not come to South Carolina until after the Revolution).

- IV. Thomas Brooks Rutherford, son of Col. Robert Rutherford, married a daughter of Maximillian Haynie, a noted mathematician of his day. He moved to Georgia where he was given land on the Oconee River in his father's will.

- IV. William Rutherford, son of Col. Robert Rutherford, married Elizabeth Roof of Lexington, South Carolina.

- IV. Robert Rutherford, Jr., married, lived, and died in Newberry, South Carolina.

Griffith Rutherford, the grandson of Samuel Rutherford, the Presbyterian Minister, was in attendance when the Provincial Congress met at Halifax, North Carolina, on April 4, 1776. Griffith Rutherford's father had stopped in Wales on the way over to America and had married into the Welsh family of Griffith. He and his wife were drowned on their way over to America and their son, Griffith, was reared by a family in Virginia, possibly his uncle's family. A history of his military operations is a part of the history of the states of North and South Carolina. He died in Sumner County, Tennessee, in 1799.

Robert Rutherford was a prominent soldier during the Revolution who had been at Eutaw Springs and had been severely wounded. A copy of his will is recorded at Edgefield, South Carolina, naming his wife, Drucilla, who was a daughter of old Van Swearingen of Virginia. Robert Rutherford died about 1798 leaving a large family, some in North Carolina and some in South Carolina. Robert Rutherford was born about 1735 or 1736 in Edgefield, South Carolina. Many of the Rutherfords in North Carolina today (1954) are his descendants - including the family of Colemans. Robert Rutherford's descendants also include the family of George Huiet who married Dorothy Ann Rutherford, daughter of Joseph Rutherford who married his cousin Micah Griffith, and the large family who claim descent through Harriet Rutherford, daughter of Joseph Rutherford who married Martha Foy, whose children intermarried with the Yarbroughs, Thompsons, and Pittmans. Dorothy Ann Rutherford Huiet was the granddaughter of Robert Rutherford.

The Perry families of Wake and Nash Counties of North Carolina and the Rutherfords of North Carolina are descended from Robert and James Rutherford, sons of Robert Rutherford (above), who did not come to South Carolina.

The Phillips family of South Carolina are descended through Dorothy Ann (Dolly) Rutherford Huiet (above) and Griffith Rutherford, son and daughter of Joseph Rutherford.

Through the descent of Mary Huiet, daughter of Dorothy Ann Rutherford and George Huiet, who married Captain Philemon B. Waters, are the families of Dr. John Dawson Waters of Saluda, South Carolina, and the large family of Waters living in Johnston, South Carolina.

A daughter of James Rutherford (above) whom he names as Dorothy in his will married James Paul Abney. From this couple are descended a large line of Abneys in Mississippi and Texas.

Agatha Rutherford (1738 - 1821) married James Boulware in Virginia. He is recorded in Spottsylvania records as being from that place. He later moved to Essex County and from there emigrated to North Carolina with the family. She went to South Carolina in 1780 with her brother. Her children were: William Boulware, George Boulware, Rutherford Boulware, Spencer Boulware, Robert Rutherford Boulware, and Mary Ann Boulware. Two of her sons served in the War of 1812.

Agatha Rutherford Boulware was the daughter of Thomas Rutherford and the granddaughter of Sir John Rutherford.

Mary Ann Boulware, daughter of Agatha Rutherford and James Boulware, married her kinsman, Joseph Griffith, the son of David Griffith and possibly his first wife, Hannah Middleton, whom he had married in Orangeburg precinct (South Carolina) in 1750. Joseph Griffith was born in 1757 and died about 1814. He (Joseph Griffith) served in the Revolution.

It is possible that Joseph Griffith (above) was a son of the second wife of David Griffith who is named in his will as Micah. It is known that they were married prior to 1764 as they were registered as voters in the Cheraws in 1764. There were three daughters to this union: Mary Ann Griffith who married John Prator and moved to Georgia; Micah Griffith who married her kinsman, Joseph Rutherford; and Agatha Griffith who became the second wife of John Abney, son of Paul Abney and Eleanor Hamilton. Agatha Griffith and John Abney (above) were the grandparents of Mrs. Agatha Abney Woodson of Edgefield, South Carolina.

The sons of Mary Ann Boulware Griffith (above) were: John Griffith who moved to Georgia, Henry Wisdon Griffith, Joseph Griffith, James Rutherford Griffith, and William Griffith.

Susannah Rutherford, daughter of Thomas Rutherford (II.) and sister of Robert Rutherford (III.), James and John Rutherford (pages 276-277), and Agatha Rutherford Boulware, married Russell Wilson, Esq., a very rich man who was very prominent in the affairs of what is now Saluda County, South Carolina. He (Russell Wilson, Esq.) was a Justice of the Quorum Court, a magistrate under the Crown before the Revolution, and served as a Captain during the Revolution in South Carolina. He was the father of several sons who were also prominent.

Russell Wilson, Jr., served in the Revolution; Simpson Wilson was a very rich man who moved to Florida. The daughter, Nancy Wilson, married Andrew Lee who came down to South Carolina from New Jersey and settled in Edgefield County on the Saluda River.

Susannah Rutherford Wilson is buried in the Rutherford graveyard in Newberry, South Carolina, by the side of her brother, Robert, and sister, Agatha.

THE WHITE FAMILY HISTORY

REF.:- Taken from papers and letters of Mrs.
William Elliott Fox of Richmond, Va.

The family name of WHITE was probably first mentioned during the reign of King Edgar (959-975) of England. During this period, one Viniet Albus (WHITE) was witness in a charter of King Edgar to the Church of Durham, who perhaps was the first of the surname WHITE.

The DICTIONARY OF FAMILY NAMES states that the year 1,000 A.D. is the prominent date for the assumption of family names. The practice commenced in Normandy and gradually extended itself into England, Scotland, and Ireland. The family name of WHITE is derived from "hrvita", a sharpner or a sword smith. One Thurcil Hrvita was mentioned in a document of the time of Canute, King of England and Denmark (1014-1036), that might be cited as proof of the great antiquity of the surname.

THE WHITE LINE

- I. AMBROSE WHITE, born in 1754 - died June 2, 1823, married Ann Jones, born in 1754 - died June 22, 1827, in January, 1776. At least 7 children were born to this union: James Jones (Jackson) White; Patsy White; Rachel White Richards Fleet; Horace White; William S. White, died June 6, 1859; Betsy White; Ira White; and other children, if any, not known.

Ambrose White lived in Caroline County, Virginia, and attended the famous Donald Robertson's School with several brothers. He was an Ensign during the American Revolution and was promoted to Captain of Militia in 1783. He was surveyor in Caroline County, Va., from 1815 to 1818. He and his wife resided at "Rose Mount" in Caroline County and were buried there in the family cemetery.

There is no positive proof who the parents of Ambrose White were. Various members of this family line in Virginia and Tennessee have several opinions concerning this fact. One opinion has it that Ambrose White's parents were Chillion White and Anne West Fox White while another belief on this subject were James and Sarah White. There is a belief also that the mother of Ambrose White was Elizabeth Ambrose who received a grant from King George II of England in 1746.

- II. JAMES JONES (JACKSON) WHITE, born November 6, 1776 - died June 5, 1850, married Elizabeth Green, born October 18, 1781 - died April 5, 1853, on December 26, 1798. Eleven children were born to this union: Ann Jones (Nancy) White Wright; George Green White, born September 20, 1801 in Caroline County, Virginia; Elizabeth Smith White, born February 5, 1803 in Caroline County, Virginia - died in Albemarle County, Virginia, married Rice G. Barksdale on November 22, 1821; Martha Green White, born February 6, 1805 in Caroline County, Virginia - died in Goochland County, Virginia, married Roland H. Goodman on November 14, 1822; Ambrose Smith White, born November 24, 1807 in Caroline County, Virginia; James Jones "Jones" White, Jr.; Mary Ann Green White, born August 29, 1816 in Caroline County, Virginia - died in Caroline County, Virginia, married Wesley Wright on May 20, 1834; William Smith White; Henry Buckner White; Julia Ann Banks White Campbell; and Virginia Nelson White, born April 12, 1825 in Caroline County, Virginia - died in Caroline County, Virginia, married George R. Samuel on September 21, 1843.

Dr. Chandler was a lecturer in the Virginia Summer School of Methods and director of history and education of the Jamestown Exposition in 1907. He was a member of the Virginia Historical Society, American Historical Association, and the Society for Preservation of Virginia Antiquities. He is the author of several books on the history of Virginia and American history.

Dr. Chandler was the nineteenth president of the College of William and Mary at Williamsburg, Virginia, from July 1, 1919 until his death on May 31, 1934.

ALVIN DUKE CHANDLER (1902-) - Taken in part from The Alumni Gazette of The College of William and Mary in Virginia - December, 1951 - Alvin Duke Chandler was born in Richmond, Virginia, on August 18, 1902, the second son of J. A. C. Chandler, nineteenth president of the College (William and Mary). After schooling at John Marshall High School and a brief enrollment at William and Mary during the year 1918-19, he entered the United States Naval Academy, whence he graduated in 1923.

In 1930 he was ordered to duty as an instructor of midshipmen in electrical engineering at Annapolis. In this capacity, he assisted in the preparation of a textbook on Physics which was used at the Academy. After two years, he was assigned to the battleship OKLAHOMA, but in 1935 he again returned to Annapolis to serve as an instructor in Ordnance and Gunnery. During this tour of duty, he co-authored a text on torpedoes.

His next assignment, in 1937, was as operations officer and flag secretary to the commander of Battleship Division Two, and from that duty, in 1938, was ordered to command the destroyer SOUTHARD. During the war he commanded successively destroyer divisions 39 and 41 and destroyer squadrons 21 and 58 and served on the staff of the Commander in Chief, United States Fleet. He participated in the African Campaign, the Marshall and Gilberts campaigns, and at New Guinea, Iwo Jima, and Okinawa.

It was in June, 1948, that he was ordered to commission and command the heavy cruiser DES MOINES. At that time it was the heaviest heavy cruiser in the world and the first ship of the Navy to mount completely automatic rapid-fire eight-inch guns. While holding this command, he was flag captain to the late Admiral F. S. Sherman in the Mediterranean when Admiral Sherman was commanding the Sixth Fleet.

From command of the DES MOINES, Chandler was assigned to the Imperial Defense College in London, England. He was later ordered to the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations as director of logistic plans, the office he held when notified of his selection as President of the College of William and Mary.

Alvin Duke Chandler, late rear admiral in the United States Navy, was installed as William and Mary's twenty-second president on October 11, 1951.

He married Louise Michaels of Richmond, Virginia, on September 25, 1926.

WILLIAM ELLIOTT FOX (1881-1939) - RICHMOND TIMES-DISPATCH, Richmond, Virginia, January 3, 1939. - Funeral services for William Elliott Fox, who died Monday (Jan. 2) at his home, will be held at Hebron Baptist Church, King William County, Wednesday, the 58th birthday of Mr. Fox. The Rev. Theodore F. Adams, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will conduct the service.

He was born in 1881 at Palestine, the old family home in King William County. His father was Dr. Richard Woolfolk Fox, 2nd, an ordained minister in the Christian Church. On the maternal side, he was descended from the Fleets and Richards, his mother having been Miss Elizabeth Temple Fleet. Mr. Fox for 19 years was general manager of the office of the Dowdy Furniture Company. He was a deacon in the First Baptist Church.

ARTHUR BROADDUS GRAVATT (1884-1952) - RICHMOND NEWS LEADER, Richmond, Virginia, January 3, 1952 - Funeral services for Dr. Arthur Broaddus Gravatt, 67, a widely known Hanover County physician, who died Wednesday (Jan. 2) at his home at Ellerson, will be held tomorrow at Walnut Grove

Baptist Church. Burial will be in the cemetery of Hebron Baptist Church, King William County.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cherbury Gravatt, he was born in King William County November 17, 1884. He attended Fork Union Military Academy where he was graduated in the class of 1903 and won a scholarship for two years at the University of Richmond. He then pursued his professional studies at the University College of Medicine in Richmond, where he received his medical degree in 1909.

After practicing medicine for awhile in King William County, Dr. Gravatt moved to Hanover Courthouse where he made his home for two years. He then established his residence at Ellerson where he practiced medicine for 37 years.

He was coroner for the Henry District of Hanover County and for many years a surgeon for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad. He was a past master of Washington Henry Lodge No. 344, AF & AM, and a member of the Richmond Royal Arch Chapter.

WILLIAM GEORGE WHITE (1872-1932) - Newspaper Clipping - SPARTA, March 10, (1932) - W. G. White, 63, resident of Caroline County, (Virginia), died at his home near here (March 9, 1932). Although Mr. Miller had suffered a long illness from a complication of diseases, his condition showed improvement recently, and death came unexpectedly before a physician or members of his family could be summoned to his bedside.

Funeral services will be held in Upper Zion Baptist Church today. Interment will take place in the cemetery there.

WILLIAM IRA WHITE (1913-1955) - STAR-TRIBUNE, Chatham, Virginia, August 5, 1955 - Funeral rites for William I. White, 41, Chatham merchant and civic leader, will be conducted today from Chatham Baptist Church with interment in the local burial park. Mr. White, a Caroline County native, succumbed to internal injuries Thursday morning (Aug. 3) in a Laurinburg, N. C., hospital, where he had been fighting a losing battle with death following an automobile accident on July 15, which occurred one mile east of Rowland, North Carolina.

The deceased, a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic, had resided in Chatham for the past 16 years, where he operated a successful mercantile business dealing in farm machinery. At the time of his passing, Mr. White was president of the Chatham Rotary Club, chairman of the board of deacons of the Chatham Baptist Church, and a director in the Chatham Chamber of Commerce.

THE BECK FAMILY HISTORY

REF.- Taken in part from a paper compiled by the Universal Heraldic Studios,
Charlotte, North Carolina

The family name of BECK is derived from two sources, the old German word "becco" of the seventeenth century, which denoted "ax" and from an ancient English name, of Scandinavian origin, meaning a brook or a small river. Modern forms of the surname in Germany are Beckh and Peck.

One of the founders of this well-known surname in America was George Beck, who was among the German settlers who came from the Palatinate and other parts of Germany and settled in Pennsylvania during the eighteenth century. George Beck settled in York County, Pennsylvania, where he became a naturalized citizen in 1761. There are a great many descendants of this family now living in this section as well as in other parts of the United States.

The family is unrelated to the English families of Beck, who came over from Hertfordshire and other parts of England and settled in the New England States and who bore entirely different arms.

There was a Lt. Beck in Washington's Army in New Jersey during the American Revolutionary War.

Under the leadership of Captain Thomas Carter, 39 families left Ridgefield, South Carolina, in the fall of 1804 and settled in Wilkinson County, Georgia. The family of Francis and Catherine Beck were among the 39 families. Francis Beck and his family settled on a plot of land consisting of 202½ acres located 8 miles northwest from Irwinton, Georgia, on the Commissioner Road between McIntyre and Bloodworth. It is in Bloodworth (Militia) District of the Fourth Land District. The tract of land is now owned by M. R. Hodges and Joe Smith.

There are two stories as to how Francis Beck acquired this land. The first story has it that he drew a piece of land from the Federal Government for fighting the Indians. The second story has it that he acquired the 202½ acres from the Federal Government for services rendered in the Revolutionary War. It is still referred to as "the old Beck place".

The original house that Francis Beck built was moved sometime between 1930 and 1935 to a site on U. S. Highway 441 about one-half mile west of the original site. The family cemetery was located at a point about one-quarter mile west of the house, just across Centerline Creek.

Francis Beck grew indigo on his land and shipped it to England. Indigo grows wild on this land today. The well from which their water was taken is still there and the original road bed is still recognizable.

Catherine, wife of Francis Beck, was received on experience of Grace in Mt. Nebo Primitive Baptist Church on April 27, 1811. The records show that she remained a member there until her death on July 12, 1824.

According to information from official State records in the Surveyor-General Department, housed in the Georgia Department of Archives and History, there is no record of a Francis Beck of Wilkinson County receiving a land lottery grant made to veterans of the Revolutionary War by the State of Georgia.

Will recorded in Will Book "A", page 182, in the office of the Ordinary, Henry County, Georgia.

Will probated May 5, 1851 Henry County, Georgia.

WILLIAM BECK (1787-1851) - Information taken from HISTORY OF WILKINSON COUNTY (GEORGIA) by Victor Davidson. Published by the John Ball Chapter, D.A.R., 1930. J. W. Burke Company, Macon, Georgia. - William Beck was born on March 19, 1787 to Francis and Catherine Beck of Wilkinson County, Georgia. He was the sheriff of Wilkinson County, Georgia, for two years - 1811 and 1816 - and was Tax Receiver of the same county in 1815. He was one of five commissioners of Irwinton, Georgia, located in Wilkinson County, when the town was incorporated by an Act approved on December 4, 1816. He served as a State Senator from Wilkinson County in 1819 and in 1821. He was one of seven trustees of the Wilkinson County Academy when the institution was incorporated in 1824.

He moved to Henry County, Georgia, sometime between 1824 and 1833 where he was a prominent farmer.

Mr. Beck died on April 10, 1851 and is buried in the old city cemetery in Griffin, Georgia, along with his wife and sons - Lewis Hicks Beck and John A. Beck.

LEWIS H. BECK (1848-1931) - MEMORIES OF GEORGIA, Vol. 1, The Southern Historical Association - 1895. Atlanta, Georgia, pages 710-711. - Mr. L. H. Beck was born at Griffin, Georgia, in Spalding County on August 5, 1848. He resided in Spalding County until he reached his eighth year, and then moved to Newton County, locating about four miles from Covington. Here he received his rudimentary education, dividing his time between the schoolroom and the plantation. At the age of sixteen, he became a member of the state troops, and served under the command of Col. Joel A. Billups. After the war he came to Atlanta, without friends or prospects, to begin the struggle of life. This was in 1866. He secured a clerkship in the hardware establishment of Tommey and Stewart and in 1870 he became a partner in the business, the firm becoming that of Tommey, Stewart, and Beck.

Mr. Stewart retired in 1878 and Mr. W. A. Gregg became a partner. Mr. Tommey withdrew in 1880 and three years later the firm was incorporated under the name of Beck and Gregg Hardware Company, the first merchantile company ever incorporated in the south. The trade of this house extends all over the country. He is the president of the Atlanta Machine Works, having successfully organized that enterprise several years ago.

Mr. Beck was united in marriage on January 1, 1874 to Miss Sallie E. Speer, sister of the late Major D. N. Speer, for many years the Treasurer of the State of Georgia. He is a member of the Capital City and Piedmont Driving Clubs. He is a member of the First Methodist Church.

GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, May 18, 1931 - ATLANTA - Lewis Beck, 83, retired hardware man and philanthropist, died at his home here today.

ERASMUS WILLIAMS BECK (1833-1898) - THE MORNING CALL, Griffin, Georgia, July 23, 1898 - Judge E. W. Beck was born in Henry County, Georgia, on October 21, 1833, the son of the late Judge William Beck. He attended the schools of his native county until 1853 when he went to Penfield College (Mercer University), seven miles north of Greensboro in Greene County, where he remained for two years. His health failing him, he returned to Henry County and in 1855 began the study of law with Col. Glenn, a prominent attorney of McDonough.

In 1856 he moved to Griffin and continued his law with Cols. Moore and Alford. During part of the Civil War Judge Beck filled the office of Solicitor General of this circuit with great credit.

In 1873 he was elected to the U. S. Congress and made a successful legislator. Some eight or ten years ago (1888 or 1890) he was made the Judge of the City Court of this county (Spalding).

Mr. Beck died on July 22, 1898 in Griffin at the old Beck home on Broad Street.

Erasmus W. Beck first joined Doyles 52nd Georgia Regiment in 1862 but was rejected for physical disability. He later volunteered his services with the 40th Georgia Infantry in 1862 and again was rejected for physical disability.

He served for a time as Ordinary of Spalding County and also in the Georgia State Adjutant-General's office.

ROBERT TOWNS DANIEL (1858 - 1915)

Taken from the following report:

At the session of The Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows held in the City of San Francisco, State of California, September 20-25, 1915, the following report from the Committee On Obituary was adopted by an unanimous, standing, silent vote:

Robert Towns Daniel, 44th Grand Sire, was born at Griffin, Georgia, October 21, 1858, a son of Dr. Milton J. Daniel and Mrs. Sherod Virginia Towns Daniel, who were among the best people of the State. He was educated at Emory College and was admitted to the Bar in 1879; soon thereafter he was elected Judge of the City Court of Griffin and served in this position for three terms. He was a delegate to the National Democratic Convention in 1894.

In 1910 he was elected Superior Court Circuit Judge and presided over the highest courts of a number of counties. He served from his first election until his death. He was a member of the Methodist Church and was a Sunday school teacher. He was a trustee of the State University, under appointment of the Governor; a vice-president of a cotton mill and of a savings bank.

He was a member of the Masonic Fraternity and of the Improved Order of Red Men and became Great Inchoonee, the chief executive and highest presiding officer of the Great Council of the United States in 1896.

In Odd Fellowship he rendered long and illustrious service. He was initiated in his home lodge, Warren No. 20, in April, 1880 and entered the Grand Lodge of Georgia in August, 1884. He was elected Grand Representative to The Sovereign Grand Lodge in 1892. He was elected and installed as Deputy Grand Sire at the Winnipeg Session of 1912. After serving for two years as Deputy Grand Sire he was elected and installed as Grand Sire at the Atlantic City Session in September, 1914.

Death came to him after only eight months of a two-year term as Grand Sire. He had just returned home from a visit to the Grand Lodges and Order in Connecticut and Pennsylvania. Arriving home on Sunday, he started the next day to attend the Grand Bodies of his native state at Fitzgerald. After an address to the vast membership of the Grand Lodge, and just after its close, he was stricken with apoplexy from which he never recovered and died about five hours later at the hotel to which he had been carried. Death came to him May 27, 1915 in the 56th year of his age.

MILTON JONES DANIEL (1875-1933) - GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin, Georgia, August 21, 1933 - Mr. Milton Jones Daniel, one of the most beloved citizens of Griffin, died at his home Sunday afternoon (Aug. 20). He had been ill for more than two years. The funeral was held this afternoon from Pittman Funeral Parlors - the old Daniel home (now known as the Sacred Heart School) where Mr. Daniel was born and reared. The Daniel homeplace was erected by Mr. Daniel's grandfather and is one of the landmarks of Griffin. Rev. Fred Glisson, pastor of the First Methodist Church and Dr. W. T. Hunnicut, presiding elder of the Griffin district, conducted the services. Interment was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Daniel was born Feb. 9, 1875 in Griffin and as a young man he was cashier of the Savings Bank of Griffin. Later he was associated with the Rushton Mills as secretary-treasurer. When that mill was sold by the late B. R. Blakely, Mr. Daniel entered the insurance field and at the time of his passing was district manager for Mutual Life of New York.

He was a former great keeper of the records of the Georgia Red Men and great representative from Georgia on the Red Men council. For several years he was a member of the National Board of Appeals of the Red Men. He was also prominent in Odd Fellow circles.

He was a member of the Griffin Rotary Club, First Methodist Church, and was vice-president and a director of the Commercial and Savings Bank.

Joining the Spalding Grays when a young man, he quickly rose in the ranks and a few years later was elected captain of the local militia. He advanced through the several ranks and a few years ago retired with the rank of brigadier-general. During the early days of the World War he was adjutant general of Georgia. At one time he was paymaster-general for the U. S. Army on duty with Georgia troops.

CLAY BROWN DANIEL (1915-) - Clay Brown Daniel was born February 6, 1915 in Griffin, Georgia, to Milton Jones Daniel and Ellen (Nellie)

Ophelia Brown Daniel. He graduated from Griffin High School in 1932. He started his radio career in 1934 as an announcer with Radio Station WKEU in Griffin and moved to Raleigh, North Carolina, as an announcer and writer with Station WPTF in 1937.

Mr. Daniel went to Durham, North Carolina, in 1939 as a Program Director with Radio Station WDNC. In 1941, he went to Radio Station WSJS in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, as a Program Director.

In 1945, he and his family moved to New York City where he was connected with the National Broadcasting Company for one year as a Producer Director. He was made Production Manager in 1946 of Radio Station WNBC in New York where he remained for six years.

Mr. Daniel moved to Hollywood, California, with his family in 1952 to be connected with Station KNBH as a Television Floor Manager. He was promoted to an Associate Director in Television with NBC in Hollywood the same year (1952).

ADDENDUM TO THE DIGITAL EDITION

In 1958, William H. “Bill” Beck III privately published “A Family Genealogy.” It was the culmination of years of research – eleven years of work, according to the preface to the book written by Bill Beck’s father. It records the genealogical records and other information of a number of families, concentrated in the middle part of the state of Georgia, but extending far beyond the boundaries of that state. The work is all the more impressive when one considers the more limited resources available to Bill Beck: no genealogy.com or other internet databases and services; no email for instant communications; no on-line availability of public records; LDS libraries that were either far more limited or (in Georgia, at least) likely non-existent. The scope of Bill Beck’s creates an invaluable tool for anyone doing genealogical research on middle Georgia families. Copies of the book were given out among various members of Bill Beck’s family; one copy wound up in the possession of my wife’s family. Known within the family as “The Beck Book,” it quickly became the source for settling who was related to whom, and to what degree.

Unfortunately, given the limited number of copies printed (the total production run is not known, although copies of the book apparently were given to the New York Public Library and the Library of Congress), not all branches of my wife’s family possessed a copy of the Beck Book. I believe that, if Bill Beck had had the technology for publication and distribution that is available today, he would have wanted a far wider distribution of his work, and would have produced many, many more copies of the Beck Book than the few printed. This transcription of the Beck Book into a digital format is an attempt to allow these family members and others to share in this work, and to provide the data assembled by Bill Beck to an even wider audience of people interested in genealogy. Unfortunately, given the time and effort required to transcribe this book, I have not yet created an index of names or places, nor have I created a GEDCOM file of the genealogical data presented in the Beck Book; if anyone else using this book as a resource is so inclined, I would invite them to do so, on the condition that they provide me a copy of such index of names and/or place, or the GEDCOM file.

Acknowledging the tremendous effort that Bill Beck put into this work, I strongly urge that anyone who uses this text as a genealogical resource give full credit to William H. Beck III and this original, monumental work. The Library of Congress data for the original work is as follows:

Bill Beck published the Beck Book when he was 33; he lived for another 50 years after its publication. The section of this book, “About the Author” on page 2, only describes the start of his long life; the only genealogical reference to himself is the modest one that appears on page 320 (the son of William Henry Beck, Jr.). Bill Beck died in Griffin, Georgia on September 27, 2008. To do Bill Beck justice, set forth below, in the same manner that he reprinted the obituaries of others, is an excerpt from his own:

WILLIAM HENRY BECK, III (1925-2008) - GRIFFIN DAILY NEWS, Griffin Georgia, September 30, 2008 - Mr. William H. “Bill” Beck III, age 82, of Griffin passed away Saturday, Sept. 27, 2008, at his residence.

Bill was born Dec. 7, 1925, in Griffin. He was the son of the late William Beck Jr. and Sara Lester Beck. He was a faithful member of Fairview Baptist Church, in Brooks. He retired from Thomaston Mills after 26 years of service. He was preceded in death by the love of his life, his wife, Jaynell Lemon Beck; son, Danny White; and great-grandchild, Taylor Dickey.

Bill, better known as “Baseball Bill,” was a sports-related icon in Griffin for over 62 years. His service to the community’s sports-related need began in 1946 as score keeper for church league softball. From there, he became involved with Little League/Dixie Youth Boys Baseball. He embarked upon a 34-year mission there where he served locally as scorekeeper, secretary, treasurer and eventually chairman. Bill also served for two years as the state secretary and treasurer. From 1959-1986 he served as the state district director. He served as scorekeeper during home games for the Fairmont Bears for 20 years. He also served for two years as the sports editor for the Spalding County Times. In the later years of his life he was known for the Griffin-Spalding County Athletic Hall of Fame, in which he took great pride. Survivors include his daughter, Patty White Johnson, of Griffin; daughters and sons-in-law, Debbie and Donald Boggs, of Pickens, S.C., and Susan and Richard Grant, of Williamson; grandchildren, Shelly Leidig, of Concord, Rick Martin, of Rock Hill, S.C., Stacy G. Cleveland, of Griffin and Lindsey M. Hoxit, of Greenville, S.C.; great-grandchildren, Makayla and Grant Leidig, Karlee and Jeremy Dickey and Cheyenne and Cierra Cleveland; sister, Ann Heckmon, of Houston, Texas; nieces and nephews.

Funeral services for Mr. Bill Beck will be conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 1, 2008, at Fairview Baptist Church in Brooks. The Rev. Charles Johnson will officiate. Entombment will follow in Westwood Mausoleum

Haisten McCullough Funeral Home, 1155 Everree Inn Road, is in charge of the arrangements.

COPYRIGHT

“A Family Genealogy” bears a copyright date of 1958; internal evidence indicates that the book was completed as early as 1957. Under the law of copyright applicable to books copyrighted in this time frame (i.e., before January 1, 1978, the effective date of the Copyright Act of 1976):

[F]ederal copyright was secured on the date a work was published or, for unpublished works, on the date of registration. A copyright lasted for a first term of 28 years from the date it was secured. The copyright was eligible for renewal during the final, that is, 28th year, of the first term. If renewed, the copyright was extended for a second, or renewal, term of 28 years. If it was not renewed, the copyright expired at the end of the first 28-year term, and the work is no longer protected by copyright. The term of copyright for works published with a year date in the notice that is earlier than the actual date of publication is computed from the year date in the copyright notice.”

Further:

Copyrights in their first 28-year term on January 1, 1978, still had to be renewed to be protected for the second term. If a valid renewal registration was made at the proper time, the second term will last for 67 years. However, if renewal registration for these works was not made within the statutory time limits, a copyright originally secured between 1950 and 1963 expired on December 31 of its 28th year, and protection was lost permanently.

Circular 15a, p. 2, United States Copyright Office (PDF version, September 1, 2011).

The renewal filing period ran from December 31 of the 27th year of the initial copyright through December 31 of the 28th year of the initial copyright:

The 1976 Copyright Act provides that all terms of copyright will run through the end of the calendar year in which they expire. This provision affects the duration of all copyrights, including those in either their first or their second term on January 1, 1978. For works eligible for renewal, the renewal filing period begins on December 31 of the 27th year of the copyright term.

Circular 15a, p. 3.

These rules, then, required a renewal of the copyright by no later than December 31 of the 28th year of the initial copyright protection, or, in the case of “A Family Genealogy,” no earlier than January 1, 1986 and no later than December 31, 1986.

The U.S. Copyright Office maintains a searchable database of all initial copyrights and renewals from January 1, 1978 to date. A search of the title “Family Genealogy” with no date limits disclosed 14 records; none of them were the book in question. A search of the author “Beck William” with no date limits disclosed no records. A search of “Beck” as the author and “Genealogy” in the title, with no date limits, disclosed 3 records; none of them are the book in question.

Based upon the foregoing, it is evident that the copyright for this book was not renewed subsequent to 1978, and that this book is not protected by copyright, and is in the public domain.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Beck Book is in the public domain, I would – once again – urge that anyone using this book as a resource acknowledge and give full credit to Bill Beck and his work.

A NOTE ON TRANSCRIPTION

Judging from the typeface of the original book (as well as its quality), it appears that the book was composed on a typewriter and then by some mechanism (such as a mimeograph process) replicated in multiple copies. The result of this process, when combined with the age of the book, is that the quality of the typeface in the original book is highly variable, and the ability of optical character recognition (“OCR”) computer programs to accurately transcribe and digitalize the text of the book is somewhat limited. For example, the program that was used would sometimes transcribe an “M” as “¥”, a “4” would become a “u” or an “h”; semicolons became colons; commas were transcribed as periods. Perhaps of most concern (considering the importance of dates in any genealogical work), the OCR program often would confuse “els”, “ones” and “sevens”. Obviously I have attempted to correct all of these errors in transcription; however, readers are cautioned to be aware of these (and other) potential errors in transcription.

A copy of the original Beck Book can be found in PDF and other formats at the Internet Archive website: <http://www.archive.org/details/AFamilyGenealogy>.

FORMATTING

Because of the limits of scanning and optical character recognition described above, a precise replication of the book in all respects, especially as to the formatting, would have nearly impossible, and would have required extensive use of hyphenated words and digital line or paragraph breaks, even in the middle of paragraphs. Moreover, as noted above, the ability to distinguish semicolons and colons, and commas and periods, in the original text could be problematic. Therefore, I decided to retain the overall structure of the book, keeping intact the text of each page, and the paragraphs within each page, but to modify the format of the book for this digital edition by: (i) converting the size of the page to the Word standard of 8½ inches x 11 inches; (ii) using a Times New Roman font (11 point default); (iii) eliminating the use of hyphenated words; and (iv) cleaning up and standardizing punctuation (colons vs. semicolons, etc.), spacing between paragraphs and other spacing conventions. However, except as noted below in “MISPELLINGS AND OTHER ERRATA”, the substantive text of each paragraph was not intended to be modified, even in the case of misspellings or grammatical errors. If there are discrepancies between the original book and this digital edition, it is due to my failure to correct errors that crept into the text as part of the scanning process. If any such errors are found (and I am certain that they exist), I would appreciate them being brought to my attention so that I may correct them.

MISPELLINGS AND OTHER ERRATA

In transcribing this book, there naturally was a temptation to correct misspelled words and other errors in the original text. However, many errors appear in text that seems to have been copied from other sources; thus it is not clear whether the error existed in the source or in the transcription to the Beck Book. In the case of source errors, to change these “errors” would have been inappropriate. On the other hand, an important part of the value of a genealogical reference work such as the Beck Book is the accuracy of names, dates and places; this accuracy becomes particularly important given the modern-day ability to execute word searches within a document. Further, it appears that relatively few of the misspellings and other errors appear in the genealogical data itself. Balancing these factors, I decided to make a limited number of corrections to the text, as follows:

1. Only errors in names, dates and place names were corrected.
2. However, errors in names, dates and places within text that appeared to have been transcribed from other sources (e.g., newspaper obituaries) were NOT corrected.
3. Corrections to names and dates were made based solely upon evidence within the book itself; no attempt was made to verify data in the book based upon outside sources.
4. Corrections would be noted in an “ERRATA” section, which then could be consulted for purposes of describing the original text.
5. Cross-references within the book were NOT checked for accuracy, except as noted below.

In my view, these limited changes are consistent with the intent and purpose of the Beck Book, and would have been welcomed by Bill Beck. Needless to say, no attempt has been made to cross-check any of the genealogical data presented against other sources, or to update any entries for subsequent births, marriages, deaths, etc.

Based upon the rules above, the following changes have been made to the text:

Errata Corrected

- Page 48: Entry for Mary Thornton McKibben stated that she married “John R. Londsey, II”. Mary McKibben’s three children’s names were all spelled “Lindsey”; therefore, Mary McKibben’s husband’s name was corrected to “John R. Lindsey, II”.
- Page 57: Entry for Ruth Hazel Ridgeway stated: “RUTH HAZEL RIDGEWAY, born November 4, 1912 in Butts County, Georgia, Robert E. Coleman . . .” The omitted word “married” was inserted after “Georgia,”
- Page 57: Footnote for Tommy Harkness Ridgeway stated in the second sentence: “He landed in La Harve, France . . .” The location was changed to “Le Havre, France”.
- Page 93: Entry for James McLean Carmichael stated the data for his wife as follows: “. . . Sarah Eliza Brown, born July 24, 1804 - December 12, 1863.” The omitted word “died” was inserted before the date “December 12, 1863.”
- Page 96: Entry for William Brown Carmichael’s second marriage to Lucianda Anne Fields, stated the data for his wife and the marriage date as follows: “. . . died July 4, 1928 in Jonesboro, Georgia, March 22, 1902.” The omitted word “on” was inserted before the date “March 22, 1902.”
- Page 107: Entry for Leslie Carmichael stated that his wife, Mary David, was born in “McDonough”, without specifying the state. This was changed to “McDonough, Georgia”.
- Page 123: Entry for James Franklin Carmichael stated the data for his infant son as follows: “. . . Infant Son, born October 21, 1872 - October 29, 1872;”. The omitted word “died” was inserted before the date “October 29, 1872”.
- Page 126: Entry for Cullen David Thaxton gave the date of death of child Noble Thaxton as “Septembe 1942.” The date was amended to “September, 1942.”
- Page 130: Entry for Bert Kinard Carmichael stated the data for him as follows: “born February 7, 1893 in Jackson, Georgia - March 23, 1938,”. The omitted word “died” was inserted before the date “March 23, 1938”.
- Page 168: Entry for David N. Carmichael stated that he was the son of “Mrs. Ethel Flether Carmichael”. The mother’s middle name was changed to “Fletcher”.
- Page 193: Last footnote on page, concerning William J. Woodward: Entry stated: “See page ”. No page number was provided. The footnote was changed to: “See page 195.”.
- Page 197: Entry for Doris Woodward stated that her daughter, Mary Bailey Caston, was born and died in “Jenkinsburg”, without specifying the state. This was changed to “Jenkinsburg, Georgia”.
- Page 271: Entry for William Tooke (#3) named a daughter “louise Hadnot”; this was corrected to “Louise Hadnot”.
- Page 280: Entry for Susannah Rutherford provided a cross-reference in a parenthetical: “(see page)”. No page number was provided. The parenthetical was corrected to “(see pages 276-277)”.
- Page 281: Entry for James Jones (Jackson) White stated that his daughter Elizabeth Smith White died in “Albermarle” County, Virginia; this was changed to “Albemarle”.
- Page 297: Entry for Napoleon LePoint Cassibry II stated that his wife Byrd Austell Thompson was born in “Spatanburg”, South Carolina; this was changed to “Spartanburg”.
- Page 314: Entry for Robert Campbell Cassibry stated that he was a student at Command and General Staff College “from August of 1947 until July of 1918.” The latter date was changed to “July of 1948.”

Errata Not Corrected

- Page 20: Entry for Otis Walker Harkness states that he married “Zolie Smith”; however, the entry notes her burial by the name “Zollie Smith Harkness”. It is noted that her son was named “Zollie Ray Harkness”.

- Page 149: Will of Joseph Carmichael contains a bequest (the second bequest) to his wife Elizabeth of “my negro woman . . . Marish . . .” for Elizabeth’s life; the sixth bequest to his son Hugh W. Carmichael bequests “my negro girl Mariah which is also to remain in the possession of my wife as long as she lives” It is not clear if this is the same slave and, if so, which is the proper spelling of her name.
- Page 277: Entry for John Hubert Rutherford states that his second wife, Mary Anderson, was born on November 15, 1850, but that their daughter, Cora Epsey Rutherford, was born on June 21, 1850, before the birth date of her mother. The 1850 census indicates that Mary Rutherford was 19 years old as of the date of that census. It is therefore likely that the correct date for Mary Anderson Rutherford’s birth was November 15, 1830; however, this has not been independently confirmed. See “United States Census, 1850,” index and images, FamilySearch (<https://familysearch.org/pal:/MM9.1.1/MZYR-BPK> : accessed 28 Jan 2013), Cora Rutherford in household of John H Rutherford, Houston county, part of, Houston, Georgia, United States; citing dwelling 628, family 628, NARA microfilm publication M432, roll 74
